Butter Factories.

Just now factory butter, like factory cheese, brings an extra price. In butter factories, as in cheese factories, a superior class of help is employed, and we think the expenses to the patrons are lightened and the profits increased. We find it so among our cheese factories, and no farmer's wife who has been once rid of cheese-making would be willing to return to the old method. It would be just so with farmers' wives if the farmers in the butter district were once to adopt the factory system of making butter.—It is such a relief to the family! And as the sales are generally made oftener, there is the advantage of always having ready money.—The same mode of dividing expenses and the proceeds of sales may be employed in butter factories that are employed in cheese factories; or, a company may be formed to buy the milk; or, as we have elsewhere suggested, only cream might be taken to the factory.—As to the buttermilk and skimmed milk, that may be fed to the hogs or calves. If the factory is to be conducted on the pro rata system, a good way would be to purchase calves or hogs with the money of the patrons, taking those of the patrons at a fixed rate per pound, put them together, and employ a man to take care of them. If any additional feed is needed, let it be purchased with the common fund by an executive committee. In the Fall, when the calves and hogs are disposed of, let the proceeds be divided pro rata. It seems to us that this would give satisfaction, and we know it would make freer, happier homes to get rid of the care and drudgery of the dairy. This, to us, is a vital consideration, and induces us to favor any kind of profitable association that will lift the burdens from the backs of our women.—Utica Herald.

Smut on Grain.

Prof. Brower, of Yale College, says in the N. Y. Tribune: "Corn smut is caused by a parasitic fungus long known to the botanists by the name of Ustilago Maidis, and it has frequently been described and figured in botanical works. Its development or growth is also pretty well understood. The fungus grows from very minute spores, which are reproduced by millions, but exactly as to how these spores react and infect the growing corn, I can find nowhere any definite information, nor have I seen any data relative to preventives. We are left here to surmises and analogies. Smut in wheat is produced by a similar fungus, similar in its botanical character, in its development, and in its results, and this wheat-smut fungus is much better known. It is proved that this gains access to the plant through the seed. The spores are sticky and adhere to the sound grain at harvest or threshing, and are sown with the seed wheat. As the new wheat-plant grows, the fungus develops in due time with it, ripening its spores at harvest. The spores may be killed and the crop saved by soaking the seed wheat before sowing in strong brine, or in a weak solution of sulphate of copper, commonly known as blue vitriol or blue stone.—[The proportions used are two to five ounces of the crystals per bushel of wheat.] It would be well to try the same remedies with corn. I have seen this recommended, but I have no information whatever as to the results. Corn-smut is rarely abundant enough to seriously affect the crop, and is principally dreaded because it is poisonous to cattle.

Steel Plows Best.

I would sooner pay double price for steel plows than accept as a gift the best set of cast iron plows to be found in the United States. Though ever so hard chilled or smoothly polished, cast iron will foul more or less on the mold board in every kind of soil, from a sandy or gravelly up to a heavy clay loam. The dirt thus gathered on the mold board adds greatly to its draft and prevents good work. Another objection to cast iron is, in order to get equal strength the weight must be considerably greater than with steel, and this is a hard drag all day, and requires a much stronger team. Of this any one may quickly convince himself without resort to a dynamometer or any other mechanical means of testing the draft. He has only to hitch a light team to the steel plow, and a stronger one to the cast iron and work them side by side. In this way I have found that a pair of 14-hand ponies would do about the same work and with as much ease to themselves as a pair of 16-hand horses. The same observations about material will also apply to cultivators. In thus candidly advising my brother farmers in regard to the superior merit of steel plows, I am speaking directly against my own individual interest, for I have been a manufacturer and dealer in cast iron plows for upward of 30 years past.—A. B. Allen, New York.

A Great Yield of Eggs.

I have a flock of twenty-four hens, a cross mostly of white Leghorn and the light Brahma. They have laid fairly during the past winter, but in three days of the last week of February, they laid respectively fifteen, twenty, and twenty-one eggs. Can any one tell me of so large a yield of eggs in a single day from twenty-four hens? I like this cross thus far. The produce is hardy, of good size, and fuller in the breast than the pure Brahmas, and almost as broad in the back and in the rump. The legs are nearly free from feathers, which is a great improvement to my eye, and they are not such inveterate setters as I find the Brahmas. In fact some do not want to set at all, and others that do can be broken up in three or four days, instead of as many weeks, as it has often taken me to accomplish with pure Brahmas, and I have tried every method for this purpose I ever heard of. This crossbreed of hens has proved superior to my Houdans in laying the past winter.—Correspondence Country Gentleman.

Plant Corn Late.

In my own experience I have found late planting of corn most judicious, though at times I, too, have missed a figure, and nearly a crop, by deferring it too long. My reasons for preferring reasonably late planting are that the germination of the seed is more likely to be a continuous process instead of one of interruptions. Corn that receives a check in its early growth may recover from it, but the chances are against it, and the result is either a dead failure of the stalk, or spindling ears. It is in the main safer to defer planting until the weather is fairly settled and the earth has become partially warmed by the sun. Then put in your seed and surround it with all the conditions necessary to a vigorous start, for after all there is nothing so well calculated to insure a good crop as an energetic start.—Zea, Philadelphia.

The varnish applied by the Chinese to tea chests is made of freshly-drawn blood, a little alum, and four parts of powdered slaked lime. One, two or three coats of this mixture, applied while viscid, make the packages impervious to moisture, rendering tin-foil unnecessary. It is useful in the printing office, as it keeps well.

A poor farmer asked how I kept my ploughs so bright. I told him whenever I got through using them in the fall I cleaned and gave them a good coating of grease. He said the practice "didn't pay." Perverse person, does he not know that the oil and labor cost less than the waste of metal by rust, and does he not remember that my spring ploughing is half done before his ploughs are in working order?

His hens roost in trees during the storms of winter, and he complains that they lay no eggs; his cows shiver by the side of the fence, and he complains that the children eat too much butter; he goes to the grocery with a jug in one end of the sack and a stone in the other, and he wipes his nose on his coat-sleeve.

MOTHERS, READ THIS!
A GREAT BLESSING!!
Worth a Dollar a Drop.
Mothers, are your little ones fretful? And is your patience almost exhausted in vain efforts to please them? I can sympathize with you, and can tell you what will make your little child quiet, give it a good appetite, and procure for it hours of sweet, sound sleep.
My little girl is two and a half years old, and during that time, I have not had two consecutive nights' rest. She has been sick a number of times, and no one seemed to know what was troubling her. It was hard to hear her little fretful cry, and not know what to do for her. I doctored her for worms, but it did no good; and I was nearly tired out with sleepless nights and troublesome days.
I heard of the VEGETINE and determined to try it. It has proved a blessing to me and my child.—It has cleansed from her stomach and bowels the sores which kept gathering there; and now she sleeps soundly from her bed-time until very late in the morning, beside a long nap at mid-day. Her appetite is good; and, in fact, she is like a different child. I often say, the true value of this medicine to me is a dollar a drop. Try it. Cleanse the humors from your children's blood while they are young. Try it, and you will join with me in calling it a great blessing. MRS. ELLEN L. CLAPP, 175 Tudor Street.

CIRCULATION of the BLOOD.
The circulation of the blood is the life of the body, and its stoppage is death. We are healthy when the blood circulates freely; any interruption preventing its free course is the commencement of disease. "Blood is the life of the flesh." Can we expect to enjoy good health, when bad or corrupt humors circulate with the blood, causing pain and disease: and these humors being deposited throughout the entire body, produce pimples, eruptions, ulcers, indigestion, costiveness, headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, and numerous other complaints. No disease can be in the body without first being generated in the blood; and no disease can possibly be in the body, if the blood is pure. It is of great importance to know what medicine will purify and renovate the blood, eradicate the disease, renew vitality, mentally and physically, and instill fresh vigor into all the vital functions of the body. This medicine is the VEGETINE, the great blood-purifier. It extends its influence into every part of the human organism, commencing with its foundation; correcting diseased action, and restoring vital powers, creating a healthy formation and purification of the blood, driving out disease, and leaving Nature to perform its allotted task.
VEGETINE is composed of Roots, Barks and Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. Sold by all druggists. M17w4

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season.—Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and otherwise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Prospectus for 1874--7th Year.
The Aldine,
An illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.
Not for Sale at Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1873.
The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates" is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.
To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.
In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art.
The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.
The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874.
Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in The White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself:
NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20th, 1873.
MESSRS. JAMES SUTTON & CO.
Gentlemen:—I am delighted with the proof in color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings,
Very respectfully,
(Signed,) THOS. MORAN.
These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.
If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.
For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.
THE ALDINE will hereafter, be obtained only be subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.
Any person wishing to act permanently as local canvasser will receive full and prompt information by applying to

Butter Factories.

Just now factory butter, like factory cheese, brings an extra price. In butter factories, as in cheese factories, a superior class of help is employed, and we think the expenses to the patrons are lightened and the profits increased. We find it so among our cheese factories, and no farmer's wife who has been once rid of cheese-making would be willing to return to the old method. It would be just so with farmers' wives if the farmers in the butter district were once to adopt the factory system of making butter.—It is such a relief to the family! And as the sales are generally made oftener, there is the advantage of always having ready money.—The same mode of dividing expenses and the proceeds of sales may be employed in butter factories that are employed in cheese factories; or, a company may be formed to buy the milk; or, as we have elsewhere suggested, only cream might be taken to the factory.—As to the buttermilk and skimmed milk, that may be fed to the hogs or calves. If the factory is to be conducted on the pro rata system, a good way would be to purchase calves or hogs with the money of the patrons, taking those of the patrons at a fixed rate per pound, put them together, and employ a man to take care of them. If any additional feed is needed, let it be purchased with the common fund by an executive committee. In the Fall, when the calves and hogs are disposed of, let the proceeds be divided pro rata. It seems to us that this would give satisfaction, and we know it would make freer, happier homes to get rid of the care and drudgery of the dairy. This, to us, is a vital consideration, and induces us to favor any kind of profitable association that will lift the burdens from the backs of our women.—Utica Herald.

Smut on Grain.

Prof. Brower, of Yale College, says in the N. Y. Tribune: "Corn smut is caused by a parasitic fungus long known to the botanists by the name of Ustilago Maidis, and it has frequently been described and figured in botanical works. Its development or growth is also pretty well understood. The fungus grows from very minute spores, which are reproduced by millions, but exactly as to how these spores react and infect the growing corn, I can find nowhere any definite information, nor have I seen any data relative to preventives. We are left here to surmises and analogies. Smut in wheat is produced by a similar fungus, similar in its botanical character, in its development, and in its results, and this wheat-smut fungus is much better known. It is proved that this gains access to the plant through the seed. The spores are sticky and adhere to the sound grain at harvest or threshing, and are sown with the seed wheat. As the new wheat-plant grows, the fungus develops in due time with it, ripening its spores at harvest. The spores may be killed and the crop saved by soaking the seed wheat before sowing in strong brine, or in a weak solution of sulphate of copper, commonly known as blue vitriol or blue stone.—[The proportions used are two to five ounces of the crystals per bushel of wheat.] It would be well to try the same remedies with corn. I have seen this recommended, but I have no information whatever as to the results. Corn-smut is rarely abundant enough to seriously affect the crop, and is principally dreaded because it is poisonous to cattle.

Steel Plows Best.

I would sooner pay double price for steel plows than accept as a gift the best set of cast iron plows to be found in the United States. Though ever so hard chilled or smoothly polished, cast iron will foul more or less on the mold board in every kind of soil, from a sandy or gravelly up to a heavy clay loam. The dirt thus gathered on the mold board adds greatly to its draft and prevents good work. Another objection to cast iron is, in order to get equal strength the weight must be considerably greater than with steel, and this is a hard drag all day, and requires a much stronger team. Of this any one may quickly convince himself without resort to a dynamometer or any other mechanical means of testing the draft. He has only to hitch a light team to the steel plow, and a stronger one to the cast iron and work them side by side. In this way I have found that a pair of 14-hand ponies would do about the same work and with as much ease to themselves as a pair of 16-hand horses. The same observations about material will also apply to cultivators. In thus candidly advising my brother farmers in regard to the superior merit of steel plows, I am speaking directly against my own individual interest, for I have been a manufacturer and dealer in cast iron plows for upward of 30 years past.—A. B. Allen, New York.

A Great Yield of Eggs.

I have a flock of twenty-four hens, a cross mostly of white Leghorn and the light Brahma. They have laid fairly during the past winter, but in three days of the last week of February, they laid respectively fifteen, twenty, and twenty-one eggs. Can any one tell me of so large a yield of eggs in a single day from twenty-four hens? I like this cross thus far. The produce is hardy, of good size, and fuller in the breast than the pure Brahmas, and almost as broad in the back and in the rump. The legs are nearly free from feathers, which is a great improvement to my eye, and they are not such inveterate setters as I find the Brahmas. In fact some do not want to set at all, and others that do can be broken up in three or four days, instead of as many weeks, as it has often taken me to accomplish with pure Brahmas, and I have tried every method for this purpose I ever heard of. This cross-breed of hens has proved superior to my Houdans in laying the past winter.—Correspondence Country Gentleman.

Plant Corn Late.

In my own experience I have found late planting of corn most judicious, though at times I, too, have missed a figure, and nearly a crop, by deferring it too long. My reasons for preferring reasonably late planting are that the germination of the seed is more likely to be a continuous process instead of one of interruptions. Corn that receives a check in its early growth may recover from it, but the chances are against it, and the result is either a dead failure of the stalk, or spindling ears. It is in the main safer to defer planting until the weather is fairly settled and the earth has become partially warmed by the sun. Then put in your seed and surround it with all the conditions necessary to a vigorous start, for after all there is nothing so well calculated to insure a good crop as an energetic start.—Zea, Philadelphia.

The varnish applied by the Chinese to tea chests is made of freshly-drawn blood, a little alum, and four parts of powdered slaked lime. One, two or three coats of this mixture, applied while viscid, make the packages impervious to moisture, rendering tin-foil unnecessary. It is useful in the printing office, as it keeps well.

A poor farmer asked how I kept my ploughs so bright. I told him whenever I got through using them in the fall I cleaned and gave them a good coating of grease. He said the practice "didn't pay." Perverse person, does he not know that the oil and labor cost less than the waste of metal by rust, and does he not remember that my spring ploughing is half done before his ploughs are in working order?

His hens roost in trees during the storms of winter, and he complains that they lay no eggs; his cows shiver by the side of the fence, and he complains that the children eat too much butter; he goes to the grocery with a jug in one end of the sack and a stone in the other, and he wipes his nose on his coat-sleeve.

A Source of Great Anxiety.
My daughter has received great benefit from the use of VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite. N. H. TILDEN, Insurance and Real Estate Agent, No. 49 Sears Building,

MOTHERS, READ THIS!
A GREAT BLESSING!!
Worth a Dollar a Drop.
Mothers, are your little ones fretful? And is your patience almost exhausted in vain efforts to please them? I can sympathize with you, and can tell you what will make your little child quiet, give it a good appetite, and procure for it hours of sweet, sound sleep.
My little girl is two and a half years old, and during that time, I have not had two consecutive nights' rest. She has been sick a number of times, and no one seemed to know what was troubling her. It was hard to hear her little fretful cry, and not know what to do for her. I doctored her for worms, but it did no good; and I was nearly tired out with sleepless nights and troublesome days.
I heard of the VEGETINE and determined to try it. It has proved a blessing to me and my child.—It has cleansed from her stomach and bowels the sores which kept gathering there; and now she sleeps soundly from her bed-time until very late in the morning, beside a long nap at mid-day. Her appetite is good; and, in fact, she is like a different child. I often say, the true value of this medicine to me is a dollar a drop. Try it. Cleanse the humors from your children's blood while they are young. Try it, and you will join with me in calling it a great blessing. MRS. ELLEN L. CLAPP, 175 Tudor Street.

CIRCULATION of the BLOOD.
The circulation of the blood is the life of the body, and its stoppage is death. We are healthy when the blood circulates freely; any interruption preventing its free course is the commencement of disease. "Blood is the life of the flesh." Can we expect to enjoy good health, when bad or corrupt humors circulate with the blood, causing pain and disease: and these humors being deposited throughout the entire body, produce pimples, eruptions, ulcers, indigestion, costiveness, headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, and numerous other complaints. No disease can be in the body without first being generated in the blood; and no disease can possibly be in the body, if the blood is pure. It is of great importance to know what medicine will purify and renovate the blood, eradicate the disease, renew vitality, mentally and physically, and instill fresh vigor into all the vital functions of the body. This medicine is the VEGETINE, the great blood-purifier.
It extends its influence into every part of the human organism, commencing with its foundation; correcting diseased action, and restoring vital powers, creating a healthy formation and purification of the blood, driving out disease, and leaving Nature to perform its allotted task.
VEGETINE is composed of Roots, Barks and Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. Sold by all druggists. M17w4

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season.—Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and otherwise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Prospectus for 1874--7th Year.
The Aldine,
An illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.
Not for Sale at Book or News Stores.
THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!
ART DEPARTMENT, 1873.
The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates" is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.
To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.
In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art.
The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.
The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.
PREMIUM FOR 1874.
Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in The White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself:
NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20th, 1873.
MESSRS. JAMES SUTTON & CO.
Gentlemen:—I am delighted with the proof in color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings,
Very respectfully,
(Signed,) THOS. MORAN.
These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.
If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.
For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.
THE ALDINE will hereafter, be obtained only be subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.
Any person wishing to act permanently as local canvasser will receive full and prompt information by applying to

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.—Whereas default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the fourth day of May, 1854, executed by Cornelius H. Elting and Catherine Ann, his wife, of the town of Westfield, Richmond County, New York, to secure the payment of fifteen hundred dollars with interest thereon from the date thereof on the fourth day of May, 1855, and which mortgage was recorded in the Clerk's Office of the County of Ulster in Book No. 48 of Mortgages, on page 326 &c., June 22, 1854, at 9 o'clock A. M.

And whereas the said Cornelius Oliver duly assigned and transferred said mortgage and the bond accompanying the same to Jane Smith, wife of Gardinier Smith of the town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, by assignment dated April 27, 1867, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book No. 89 of Mortgages, on page 532, &c., May 30, 1868, at 10½ o'clock A. And whereas, the said Cornelius C. Smith, John F. Smith, Richard C. Smith, Mary Dennis and Jeannette Van Wagenen duly assigned and transferred all their right, title and interest in and to said bond and mortgage to their father, Gardinier Smith, by assignment dated January 31, 1874, and duly recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office, in book 186 of deeds, on page 59, &c., February 20, 1874.

And whereas the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice is the sum of fifteen hundred and ninety one dollars, and eighty-two cents, to wit: $1,500 of principal and $91.82 of interest, and which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained, and duly recorded as aforesaid; and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described at public auction at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Kingston, in the county of Ulster, and state of New York, on the 12th day of June, 1874, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day.

The premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain farm lying in the town of Marbletown, in the county of Ulster, and state of New York, and is bounded as follows, viz: Bounded on the north by lands of the heirs of John P. Brink and Gardinier Smith, on the east by lands of Abraham Diets and southwestern turnpike, on the south by lands of Jacob VanCuren, Edward O'Neil, Cornelius M. VanBuren, John Dewitt and Henry T. Jansen, and on the west by Mountain Road, containing about three hundred and thirty-four acres, be the same more or less, together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining and the reversion and reversions, remainder and remainders, rents, issues and profits thereof.

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Saturday Morning, March 28.

If George Alfred Townsend would please be advised not to write that life of Sumner, as he threatens to do, we think he would oblige his friends who know him as a good correspondent and a passably poor biographer.

What if Bismarck should die as an end of his present illness, would King William feel relieved of an overshadowing personality, and would the Jesuits in Germany thank Providence for a gracious calamity? Who can tell?

Even Dawes' dispatch stating that he is under no pledge, expressed or implied, to mortal man, is discredited in Boston; they say Butler dictated it. The Hoar partisans avow their determination "to stick until the crack of doom." Doom will crack on a final ballot.

The remains of the late Dr. Livingstone have been fully identified and embarked by steamer for England. We are sorry to lose so grand a character and so indefatigable an explorer as the Doctor, still it is a comfort to know that he is indeed dead and not lingering like a partially disembodied ghost, on the border-land of time.

London has had a big pageant—the Queen and the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh showing themselves freely to the crowds. What is the use of having pretty and expensive things unless one can wear them sometimes—and why have a royal family which costs a nation muckle pennies unless a worshipping people can have them out for an airing once in awhile, with the dragoons and horses and all that? But one thing is sure, "Britons never will be slaves."

The feeling of the South toward Senator Sumner is probably expressed accurately by this extract from the New Orleans Picayune: "Let the grave cover all that was inimical to Southern ideas and sentiments in the deceased Senator, and let us only remember that he would have put away from the federal archives all show and sign of the triumph of countrymen over countrymen." We should be sorry to have the Picayune feel bad, but the things in Mr. Sumner's character "inimical to Southern ideas and sentiments" are the principal foundation stones underlying his reputation. As for the rest, for which our contemporary praises him, it is in harmony with all he ever did or said toward the South, and we are pleased to see it find favor there.

No great reform in morals or in politics can be effected without at least the semblance of temporary tyranny. The law had to be disregarded and the constitution stretched in order to the abolition of slavery, and something akin to that must accompany the eradication of the rum power. And inasmuch as all literal law should be and is interpretable in the direction of honor, virtue and righteousness, there ought to be no great difficulty in so reading it in this case. What we want done is the crushing out of distilleries everywhere by the strong arm of national legislation. If there is no liquor nobody can drink it—the manufacturer of the article under protection of law is the fountain-head of all the trouble we have in respect of social and individual intoxication. If alcohol be absolutely needed for scientific and medicinal purposes, let it be made only by responsible persons and only in such quantities as may be needed; all under the control and vigilant supervision of the government.

Fitz John Porter.

Fitz John Porter has rested with what patience he might under the condemnation of a court-martial for several years. It will be recollected that charges were entered against him by General Pope, for misconduct during the war on several occasions at and previous to the battle of Bull Run. Porter was found guilty upon some of these by the evidence offered at the time, which it seems he was unable to rebut. Since then new testimony, not accessible before, has arisen which it is alleged will, if presented, put quite another phase upon the question of General Porter's innocence or guilt; which indeed will entirely exculpate him from the charges formerly made. For some time past he has attempted to procure a new trial for the proper introduction of this evidence. Delays have intervened and no hearing has yet been had. The other day, however, the Pennsylvania Legislature honored itself by passing, by a large majority, a preamble and resolution summarizing these facts and requesting the President to order another court-martial before which General Porter may appear to plead his case in the light of the fresh developments spoken. One member only of the Pennsylvania House spoke against the resolution on the ridiculous ground that he "knew of certain testimony of a very damaging character to Fitz John Porter." If so let that honorable member produce it at the court, for which he should have voted for that identical purpose. We cannot doubt that President Grant's sense of fair play and his soldierly instincts will lead him to do the right thing in this case.

The Senate Agrees.

As we predicted and as was very generally expected throughout the country, the temper of the Senate favors the consummation of the inflation scheme. The vote of Thursday, although not upon the House bill, is decisive of the character of the reception which awaits that measure when it comes before them. Both houses have now declared that $400,000,000 is the lawful sum-total of the legal tender issue; the arbitrary issue of the $44,000,000 reserve, or a part of it, by the Secretary of the Treasury has also been justified by Congress, and the doctrine established that the Executive Department may flood the country at pleasure with notes already called in and cancelled. When the final action which logically results from this preliminary vote shall have been taken, $18,000,000 more of irredeemable notes will be injected into the veins and arteries of trade. In view of this fact so near at hand, it will do no harm for us to refresh our memories as to the undeniable nature of the currency we shall be called upon to accept an increase of. Remember that a greenback is a promise to pay without any provision expressed or made for its redemption. Its value is just the value of the popular confidence in the veracity of the government—no more. A greenback is really worth less than the unendorsed note of an individual, for the reason that he can be sued in the courts for payment and Uncle Sam cannot. As a war measure in finance, as we have heretofore said, the issue of a vast amount of legal tenders needed no further justification than the situation which gave it birth; it is our persistent clinging to an idea suitable only for an emergency that has almost wrought our financial ruin. One thing more should, however, be said; a judicious scheme of redemption might offset to a degree the evils of inflation. But we hardly look to see one adopted.

"As He Used To."

There are but few words of all the myriads that pass our lips sadder than "It might have been." By reason of some subtle law of our complex nature, almost all retrospects are overhung with the cool, gray tints of a regret which is half self-condemnation. No one recurs to the thought of a vanished summer, standing at the time amid the rustling, crackling leaves, which are the faded memorials of its perished glory, without an undefined but no less real sense of ill-desert mingling with the certainty of loss. In respect to broken friendships and personal intimacies sundered by the manifold tangental forces that drive men apart, the idea that much of it might have been prevented is always an insinuating phase in the process of memory. It is a conclusion pretty generally agreed to by poets and rhapsodists not only, but also by the sober side of human nature not given to flights of eloquence or the soft jingle of the golden bells of rhyme, that friendships once formed are not to be thrown off for light and transient causes. Even our fathers, in the fearful but exalted days of the early summer of 1776, deemed their relation to the mother country sufficiently close to require at their hands an extended and entirely luminous declaration of their reasons for breaking it. It is an attribute, we take it, of all essentially noble souls always to mourn the death of a sweet, true sentiment and the friendly relation which inculcated it; never to refer to it in a burst of egotistic talk, or to use it to point the moral of a speech or sermon. Thinking thus, we are a degree surprised and correspondingly pained to hear Dr. Storrs allude to his David and Jonathan alliance with Mr. Beecher as a thing of the past. The fathers of these men were friends before them—the sons inheriting from them a sort of personal gravitation towards each other; and since the induction of both into the ministry in the same city, Dr. Storrs claims that the warmest sympathy has prevailed between them. The other day the Doctor mentioned this, but in the manner in which he would have spoken on a thing buried under the nodding daisies.—Making a more special reference to the power and usefulness of the pastor of Plymouth Church, the orator indicated that this also was now nothing more than a fading reminiscence. Particularizing the various points in politics or morals whereupon Mr. Beecher's voice has rung through the land in denunciation or in pleadings, the Doctor employed the funeral phrase, "As he used to." Now, under favor of all legalists and ultraists of every name, we beg to say that the best work of his life is being done now by the great preacher. He is not so sure of a few things as he was in his days of thicker brawn and mid-day popularity, but much surer of many more. These are the mellowest days for him of all the long rolling year; the time of the singing of birds is gone and now for him and his the crushed autumnal grape pours out its cordial wine. The gathered sheaves of a life rich in reflection and fraught with experience, are piled high to-day upon the platform of Plymouth Church. Unkindess can go no further than to say the wine is sour and the wheat is rusted; for, unless we are without natural authority to make a New England guess, Mr. Beecher, the best loved man in America, will preach better for the remainder of his life than "As he used to."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The Democrats voted unanimously against the transportation bill. State rights.

—Ben Butler is "aging" fast, they say. Is it remorse or hard work?

—The currency fight is one between brains and numbers, and numbers have it.

—The Brooklyn Argus would like to know Butler's opinion of that council.

—The result of the Bilbao fight it is thought will decide the fate of the Carlists or republicans of Spain.

—No taint of corruption is found in Senator Booth's case, and the friends of sterling honesty have occasion to rejoice.

—Now is the time to go west. The great through routes have made great reductions in rates.

—The Philadelphians are making a dead set for congressional help for the Centennial, but it seems to be no go.

—Dio Lewis is at work in Brooklyn now, but finds that city about as hard a nut as he has yet come across.

—The latest brutality is the "international pigeon-shooting match," at New York. Why not import bull-fighting and go the whole porcine?

—Eli Perkins is lecturing before a Kansas Young Men's Christian Association. It will develop the Christian virtue of patience, anyhow.

—The Irish Citizen advises emigrants to go south instead of west. The south certainly now seems to be an inviting field. But who would have thought it fifteen years ago?

—An effort is being made to have Lowenstein's sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. As the evidence against him was almost wholly circumstantial, there would seem to be reasons for commuting.

—It is said Ralph Waldo Emerson will receive the nomination for Lord Rector of the University of Glasgow, to succeed the Right Hon. Benjamin Disraeli. Which will be a deserved honor.

—The immunities of journalism in the west and south make that profession animated and interesting. The latest pleasantry is the Vicksburg affair, where an ex-policeman stabbed a local editor and was in turn shot and killed by the newspaper man. We can think of one moral to apply—to live long in the flowery south, don't stab local editors.

—A Washington dispatch says it may safely be said that petitions to the United States Senate for or against inflation have not the slightest effect. Of course not; "the voice of the people" isn't supposed to reach as high an elevation; but one of these days, when they go higher yet, the Senators may find out their mistake.

OUR ALBANY CORRESPONDENCE.

ALBANY, March 26, 1874.

EDITOR FREEMAN:—The chilly blasts of March on Tuesday last, and previously thereto, proved too much for a great many here, who were forced to go to bed, or into a fit of sneezing. Among the former I was counted, and as I nervously tossed about on a four dollar bedstead, and meditated upon the increasing chances which my indisposition gave legislators to study the finer legislative arts, I could but compare in my mind's eye the difference between virtue in public servants and the want of integrity in officials. Long did I study man as first made, and man as he is. I was led almost involuntarily to compare Adam before he eat that apple with the Railroad Committee, and I was very favorably impressed with Adam. In fact taking the said committee as a whole, and I'm not so sure that Adam was company for them after he reached the core of the aforesaid fruit.

As I predicted, the breeze over railway matters sprung up briskly on Friday last, but it was only a squall, to be followed—as it was—yesterday by a regular nor' wester.

Mayor Eastman is a man of a vast deal of energy and push, and is as full of practical ideas as a dozen ordinary men, but he generally requires somebody to carry out, dot out, put in form and shape his notions, which come to him crude. He introduced his Rapid Transit scheme some six weeks since, but Vanderbuilt's crowd jumped on it with so many schemes that Mr. Eastman thought he would offer some amendments, and in doing so eliminated so many from his old one and placed in so many new ones that the Railroad Committee call it a "substitute." Of course the "substitute" came in several weeks after the original bill, but some time before Vanderbilt's scheme as reported last week. Hence, Mr. Eastman saw a nigger in the fence, especially as it was rumored that $12,000 had been flung around somewhat loosely. At all events enough had come to the front to convince Mr. Eastman that his duty required him to call upon the said committee to answer, and he did so by rising to a question of privilege, ending his speech by saying that he would in the regular order of business offer a resolution discharging the said committee from the further consideration of his bill, and thereby getting it before the House. That order of business—resolutions—the railway men of the House did not allow to be reached; Mr. Leake of New York moving to adjourn until Monday at 7½ P. M., which prevailed.

During the interim, I talked with quite a number of members, who seemed "hot" for Eastman, but strange to say when talked to on Wednesday morning were not disposed to favor the resolution. At all events, the railway men were so confident that Mr. Weed of the committee asked unanimous consent that the resolution go in, and after severe semi-personal debate, the redoutable Mayor's backbone took a "curve" and he withdrew the resolution. That he made a mistake is quite generally conceded, but others think not. At all events his warm friendship for Weed and others seems to have been sufficient to secure the action he took. It is said his bill will be reported this week. The great laugh comes in when such men as "Old Salt" and Lincoln get up to indulge in "fits" of virtuous indignation. Is it true that the Railroad Committee was made up at Vanderbilt's suggestion? If not, why do such names as Stover, Stephens, Mackin, Denniston, Morey and Weed appear on it? But enough of this at present; the door to the Railway Committee room ought to open, the drawer—now full of bills—be unlocked, and bills should and must come out. There are rumors of coming trouble on pro rata and and other bills, and unless Depew & Co. watch things closely "the boys" will put a bee in his bonnet, as they did when Alberger's Canada & Grand Trunk bill went through some time since.

The Supply Bill came in the House for the second time on Tuesday, and was made a special order for Wednesday, and the same has been discussed ever since with slight intermissions, when general business comes to the front. The Supply Bill looks like a pretty fair one, and thus far has not been seriously disturbed in its items. There is an item of $1,500,000 for the new Capitol, which shall be paid out by such person OR Commissioners as may be designated. The investigation in that matter is still going on, and it is hard to tell what the Senate Committee will find as matters of fact, or what it will recommend. Hence the peculiar language in the Supply Bill. I find also that Mr. Snyder has secured an item in the bill for the relief of Mr. Hommell, who was injured at Sing Sing. Mr. Winfield asserts that Snyder is preparing a speech on the "Dangers of the Hour, or the Corruption in the Past, in Legislative Halls." Winfield will speak at an early day upon the great question of the hour, "Who will elect the next Governor," or the "Incorruptibility of the Body Politic—in Ulster."

Senator Connelly is meditating as to what subject he will attack, and in the meantime pushes his Kingston Bank Bill through and gets a favorable report on the Rosendale Savings Bank Bill.

The Senate Committee has reported adversely the bill to exempt bonds and mortgages, but a motion was made to disagree, which was defeated, and then a motion was made to disagree and that the motion lie on the table. Carry the news to Mr. Brown.

Very little talk yet on that compulsory education bill, but will have next week, as we also shall have on that bill to abolish the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The question to-night is, shall the office of Superintendent of Repairs on the Canals be abolished and additional powers given the Canal Commissioners? It is leading to a deep and sharp debate. Messrs. Sloan, Alvord and Beebe are hammering away at it, and it seems as if Davis (Dem.) was the only Democrat who favors the bill. This canal business is very corrupt, and, strange to say, but few men in the state understand it at all. A few men run and have run the whole machine for years. The lamented Senator Hardenbergh pushed a like bill—to the one under discussion—through both houses, but the Governor vetoed it. Mr. Beebe thought the bill, if passed as a Republican party measure, ought not to go into effect until the people can elect such men as they shall desire to take control of the vast commercial interests involved. Mr. Beebe stood to-night like a wall of fire between the people and Alberger & Co., who seem to desire to rush it through. Beebe was successful, progress being reported.

I must give up the problem of adjournment; at this hour it looks some way in the future, but I reckon "the boys" would as soon lay around for a while longer for a bone or two, few having turned up as yet.

I came near forgetting to say that Mr. Snyder was in the chair last Tuesday evening and I will here say that he proved himself "a rattler" in dispatching business. He would make a good Speaker.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Mr. LOGAN took exception to Morrill's reason for withdrawal as being an insinuation that there were no brains in the Senate except in his own head.

Mr. SCHURZ called Logan to account for the discourteous style of his speech and a passage at arms ensued between these gentlemen, ended finally by mutual explanations.

Mr. MORRILL'S amendment having been withdrawn, the question recurred on the amendment of Logan to the substitute of Mr. Merrimon submitted last evening.

Mr. SHERMAN said the amendment of Senator Logan presented a simple question whether the Senate was in favor of free banking or not. If free banking should be established the banking capital would all concentrate within one hundred miles of New York city, and the west and south would be more dissatisfied than ever.

Mr. CONKLING of New York said the second section of the substitute submitted by the gentleman from North Carolina (Merrimon) provided for an increase of $16,000,000 in the national bank circulation, while the very next section, submitted by the gentleman from Illinois, provided for all the circulation which could be obtained.

Mr. GORDON of Georgia asked Logan to accept the third section of the committee's bill. He (Gordon) believed with Merrimon that if free banking was authorized the national banking capital would concentrate within one hundred miles of New York city. The committee's bill would better somewhat the south and west.

Mr. LOGAN said his purpose was to offer his amendmedt to the first section of the bill of the gentleman from North Carolina in place of the second section of that bill. It was offered yesterday at the hour of adjournment after a brief examination.

Mr. MORTON moved to strike out the section of the bill as reported by the committee, which provides for the redemption of United States notes on January 1st, 1876.

The CHAIR ruled that motion out of order at this time.

Mr. LOGAN said to test the sense of the Senate on this second section he would withdraw his amendment in order that Senator Morton might move to strike out the second section.

Mr. SHERMAN said this to him was the vital point in the bill and he hoped it would not be stricken out.

Mr. CAMERON moved that the Senate go into executive session.

Mr. HAMLIN moved to strike out of the second section of the financial bill January, 1876, as the time when United States notes should be redeemed in coin or interest-bearing bonds and insert the first of January, 1877, pending which the Senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business and adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. POLAND offered an amendment to the currency bill making it the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel as fast as practicable United States notes until their amount is reduced to $388,000,000, and then allow unlimited circulation to national banks.

Mr. MITCHELL addressed the House in opposition to the bill in a long and carefully prepared speech.

Mr. MERRIAM of New York, a member of the Banking Committee, addressed the House n advocacy of the bill, particularly the free banking features of it, as also did Hunter of Indiana, another member of the Banking Committee.

The House at 4:45 took a recess till 7:30, the evening session and the session to-morrow to be exclusively for debate on the currency bill.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session of the House was attended by not more than a dozen members and there was no interest in the proceedings, the speeches being merely written essays.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Oxford and Cambridge Boat Race.

LONDON, March 27.—The race between the Oxford and Cambridge crews will take place at forty-five minutes past ten o'clock to-morrow morning. The rowing of the Oxford crew to-day showed continued improvement and their chances of success have brightened considerably. Betting this evening is about even. Light blue and dark blue rosettes, the respective colors of the Cambridge and Oxford crews, have been selling rapidly all day and now that there is a chance of Oxford winning the excitement is intense.

THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

LONDON, March 27.—In the House of Commons to-day Anderson asked how many Fenian convicts were still undergoing sentence where they were imprisoned and whether the government was or was not of the opinion that the time had came for their release.

Cross, the Home Minister, replied that the total number of these prisoners was sixteen. Two were now undergoing sentence for the Manchester murder but none for the Clerkenwell outrage. Two others were under sentence of imprisonment for fifteen years, one for seven years and eleven who had been soldiers were sentenced for life, having been convicted of supplying arms to and otherwise assisting insurgents. They were distributed as follows: Three were in England, eight in one part of Australia and two in another and three in Ireland. Cross concluded by declaring that the government had no intention of interfering with the execution of their sentences. This announcement was received by the House with cheers.

The Opposition Leadership.

OTTAWA, March 27.—Sir John A. MacDouald has formally resigned the leadership of the opposition, and Dr. Tuppee will probably be chosen to succeed him.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH.

OTTAWA, March 27.—The Governor-General's speech to Parliament to-day says attention will be called during the session to the question of the ballot in elections, to the establishment of a general court of appeal and the consideration of a plan for the more speedy completion of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Canal and harbor improvements are being vigorously prosecuted for the growing trade of the country. The report of the Chief Engineer of the proposed canal between the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Bay of Fundy will be submitted. Another year is required to complete the Inter-Colonial Railway and a bill will be introduced vesting its control in the Board of Public Works. The question of the compensation due the Dominion for fishing privileges conceded the United States by the treaty of Washington has occasioned a renewal of negotiations tending to widen the reciprocal trade relations with that country, the imperial authorities having directed the British minister to discuss the whole subject at Washington with the aid of a Canadian commissioner. The receipts of the current year will not meet expenditures and it will be necessary for Parliament to consider means to make good the anticipated deficiency. The Governor speaks favorably of the efforts to promote emigration and says notwithstanding the commercial depression that prevailed to some extent the past year the general prosperity will not be seriously affected.

SPAIN.

The Fight at Bilbao.

MADRID, March 27.—Marshal Serrano in a dispatch to the War Office says his losses in the engagement yesterday were 188 men killed and wounded. His troops maintain all the positions they captured from the Carlists. The insurgents having massed he relinquished his intention of carrying the town of Pedro Abanto, till the movement now being performed by his right wing is completed.

BAYONNE, March 27.—Dispatches from Carlist sources dated Durango yesterday claim success for the insurgents in a two days' fighting with Marshal Serrano.

MADRID, March 27.—The battle of Thursday before Bilboa lasted thirteen hours. The latest dispatches from Marshal Serrano are very hopeful. Sixteen heavy guns were in good position for the attack on Pedra Abanto Friday.

FRANCE.

A Little Breeze in the Assembly.

PARIS, March 27.—In the Assembly to-day M. Dabirel, a Monarchist, moved that the Assembly take a vote on the first day of July to decide the future form of government for France. He urged that it was impossible to make a constitution without first settling the question whether France was to be a monarchy or republic. The motion caused great excitement in the chamber and a heated debate ensued. M. de Kendrel and Duke de Broglie spoke against it.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Another Appointment in Place of Hillyer.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The President has nominated Alexander P. Ketchum Appraiser of Merchandise at New York instead of William S. Hillyer, withdrawn.

Pension Agent Bennett of San Francisco, who disappeared several months since and whose accounts were then reported correct, proves him to be a d[illegible]ter to a large amount. The examination is not concluded and the exact amount is not ascertained.

A FENIAN CASE.

The House Committee on Foreign Relations to-day voted to report and recommend the House to pass a resolution requesting the President to intercede with the government of Great Britain for the pardon and release of John Candon of Ohio, who is now confined in jail in England under sentence of life imprisonment for participation in Fenian raids.

CONFIRMATION BY THE SENATE.

The Senate has confirmed A. P. Ketchum as Appraiser of Merchandise at New York and W. S. Havens as Collector of Customs at Sag Harbor, New York.

ALBANY, March 27.—The special committee of the Assembly appointed to hear evidence in regard to the charges made against the Committee on Railroads have sent to the editors of the Times, Herald, Graphic and Evening Mail a circular setting forth the resolution under which they were appointed, and inviting the said editors to appear before the committee on any day, except Saturday, for the next ten days at the Delavan House, Albany, to give evidence tending to impeach the integrity of the Railroad Committee or any member thereof.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

Therefore, in view of the fact that the President had resigned from the company, they asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Mr. TOBEY moved that the report be adopted, and that the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. Carried.

ASSEMBLY.

The bill providing for the appointment of additional Notaries Public was reported from the Judiciary Committee, amended, and read a third time and passed.

THE SUPPLY BILL.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. LINCOLN in the chair, on the Annual Supply Bill.

Mr. W. MILLER moved to strike out the appropriation of $300,000 for the completion of the State Reformatory at Elmira. He questioned whether the people of the state were willing to vote these immense amounts for public buildings. Those buildings now under way have already cost over seven and a half millions, as he showed by the figures presented by the Governor, who has pointedly condemned the whole system. If these works are completed according to the plans they will cost the State about $23,000,000. The new Capitol, as the Governor recommends, should be pushed as rapidly as possible so that it can be enclosed, but these other buildings should be stopped until some other plan can be devised for their construction. The work is now entrusted to local commissioners who have adopted a most wasteful scale of expenditure, and have undertaken much needless and foolish work. The State prison at Sing Sing for instance has no suitable wall about it, but at this Elmira Reformatory, though the building is not yet in existence, they have built a wall to enclose it which would keep out the entire National Guard of the State, even though it were commanded by the gallant soldier from the metropolis (Mr. Spencer.)

He argued at considerable length to show that the system of scattering these public buildings throughout the state and entrusting their construction to local and irresponsible commissions was all wrong. This work should be done under the control of state officers. Let us, he said, take the advice of the Governor in this respect. Let us drop all these buildings, except the new Capitol. That great work we must now complete in the shortest possible time, and though he thought it would be better if that were taken out of the hands of a commission, it would yet be unwise to now make a change in the plan of the construction. We should, however, in justice to taxpayers, drop everything not of pressing necessity until the new Capitol is finished.

Mr. BATCHELLER defended the action of the committee in inserting these appropriations. He said the committee had regarded only the needs of the state with reference to the criminals and insane. It was necessary to find room for them, and in providing that room they had no regard to considerations or locality. It is well known that all the prisons are overcrowded and immediate provision for the overplus is urgently needed. At this time there are over seven hundred state prison convicts for whom there is literally no room. There are also about five hundred insane for whom there is no room, and at Utica they have to sleep upon the floor and in cots because there are no accommodations for them. We should cut off where we can afford to cut off; but we must take care of our criminals and those who are unable to take care of themselves. The committee believe that the needs of the state require these appropriations. We could cut off the supplies to able-bodied men, but we cannot stint our aid to the helpless. He contended that the buildings had been constructed with economy, and the extra sums are for outbuildings, etc.

He admitted that the original plans of the Elmira Reformatory were extravagant, but they have been changed so that the cost of construction will be greatly reduced. The expenditure of the money has been placed in the hands of gentlemen in whom the Governor has confidence, and he did not think the accommodations so urgently required could be furnished for less money. The ornamental work which had been so much objected to has been dispensed with, and the plans have been actually reduced to the minimum of cost. The committee, however, were not satisfied with the assurance that such was the case, and they have provided that the change of plans shall be approved and certified to by the Governor and Comptroller before the money is paid, and these officers must require the production of vouchers and other papers. They have full control of the matter. The committee found themselves face to face with the necessities of the day, and they have decided that, taking everything into consideration, we must go on and complete these structures. There are necessities of the case for which this Legislature is not responsible. There has been extravagance in the construction of these buildings, but such measures have been taken as he thought would effectually prevent any more wasteful expenditure.

In the House Mr. BATCHELLER moved that a special session be held from three o'clock until five o'clock. If this was done he said the Supply Bill could be ordered to a third reading to-day. This he thought would be a fair compromise with those who desired to adjourn until Monday, as he would vote with them to adjourn from five o'clock until Monday night.

Mr. C. S. SPENCER spoke against the motion. He moved to amend so that when the House adjourns it be until Monday evening.

The ayes and noes were called for on Mr. Spencer's amendment, and it was carried—63 to 51.

The question being on the motion of Mr. BATCHELLER, as amended, that gentleman arose and charged that this attempted postponement was in the direct interest of dishonesty. He knew something of the combinations which are being formed, and he knew a postponement would be dangerous. He conjured the Republican members of the House not to place themselves in the hands of this combination. The Republican majority would be responsible for this postponement, and he thought it was a responsibility which it could ill afford to carry.

Mr. Beebe could not see things in the light as just represented. There was no danger in letting the Supply Bill go over until next week. If the bill was on its final passage it would be another matter. It was not a bill that should be hurried through. No harm could come to the state if we did not hold an afternoon session. He had contracted engagements which compelled him to leave on an early train. The New York Times had declared that it should criticise closely the records of members of the Legislature. For one (and he thought more of that sheet than did many Republicans on the floor of this House), that paper was welcome to his record, and if it denounced him he would not attempt to drag the editors forth from the privacy of their sanctums. He voted to adjourn till Monday evening.

Mr. C. S. SPENCER, in the course of his remarks, asked Mr. Batcheller if he suspected him (Spencer) of being interested in any corrupt claims which he was seeking to get into the Supply Bill?

Mr. BATCHELLER responded that there was a powerful lobby here for the purpose of getting claims in that bill, but he did not charge Mr. Spencer with any unworthy motives with respect to any of them.

Mr. C. S. SPENCER was thankful for the manly statement. All the interest he had was in some additions he wanted made to the pay of some little boys and maimed and wounded men. He voted to adjourn.

After further discussion, the motion to adjourn to Monday evening was adopted, 61 to 52.

Adjourned to Monday evening at 7 1-2 o'clock.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

THE ERIE STRIKE.

The freight hands of the Erie Railway now on strike held a meeting to-night and resolved to accept the terms offered by the company. They will resume work to-morrow.

The men employed at the new tunnel through Bergen Hill struck this afternoon for $2 per day. They have been receiving $1.25. A squad of 200 men left Jersey City for Susquehanna to-night to guard the property of the Erie Company at that place.

THE CONGREGATIONAL COUNCIL.

The afternoon session was continued till after 6 o'clock, when a recess was taken till 9. The evening session was short. The members assembled in the private lecture room of the church about 9 o'clock, but did not retire into secret session until about 10 owing to the fact that the committee appointed at the morning session to draft resolutions embodying the advice to the council of both churches was unable to agree. This committee is composed of five clergy and three laymen, the names of some of whom only could be ascertained, viz.: Messrs. Quint, Post, Smythe and Hammond. Shortly before 11 o'clock the committee were sent for and stated that they had not yet agreed. On motion the council then adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning. Immediately on the adjournment of the council the committee retired again to complete their resolutions and did not separate until a late hour. The members of the committee were very reticent and would not say as to whether or not they had agreed on the matter they had under consideration.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Destruction at Port Henry.

RUTLAND, March 27.—A destructive fire occurred in Port Henry, N. Y. last night, commencing at about 11 o'clock, and was not stayed until a large number of business places of the village were laid in ruins. The village has no fire apparatus and no water for use upon such a time, which accounts for the extent of the fire. Several persons were injured more or less in their efforts to stay the progress of the flames. During the afternoon the whole market was weak on Washington dispatches reporting debate on Sherman's bill, showing considerable opposition by Senator Morrill of Vermont and others. The decline ranged from ⅛ to 1⅛ per cent., with Pacific Mail, Western Union, Lake Shore, New York Central and Union Pacific as the principal features. Dealings were heavy, the total sales for the day being about 310,000 shares. Gold closed at 113. Money 4. Governments strong. State bonds quiet. Stocks active at weaker prices.

Kingston, Saturday Morning, March 28.

If George Alfred Townsend would please be advised not to write that life of Sumner, as he threatens to do, we think he would oblige his friends who know him as a good correspondent and a passably poor biographer.

What if Bismarck should die as an end of his present illness, would King William feel relieved of an overshadowing personality, and would the Jesuits in Germany thank Providence for a gracious calamity? Who can tell?

Even Dawes' dispatch stating that he is under no pledge, expressed or implied, to mortal man, is discredited in Boston; they say Butler dictated it. The Hoar partisans avow their determination "to stick until the crack of doom." Doom will crack on a final ballot.

The remains of the late Dr. Livingstone have been fully identified and embarked by steamer for England. We are sorry to lose so grand a character and so indefatigable an explorer as the Doctor, still it is a comfort to know that he is indeed dead and not lingering like a partially disembodied ghost, on the border-land of time.

London has had a big pageant—the Queen and the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh showing themselves freely to the crowds. What is the use of having pretty and expensive things unless one can wear them sometimes—and why have a royal family which costs a nation muckle pennies unless a worshipping people can have them out for an airing once in awhile, with the dragoons and horses and all that? But one thing is sure, "Britons never will be slaves."

The feeling of the South toward Senator Sumner is probably expressed accurately by this extract from the New Orleans Picayune: "Let the grave cover all that was inimical to Southern ideas and sentiments in the deceased Senator, and let us only remember that he would have put away from the federal archives all show and sign of the triumph of countrymen over countrymen." We should be sorry to have the Picayune feel bad, but the things in Mr. Sumner's character "inimical to Southern ideas and sentiments" are the principal foundation stones underlying his reputation. As for the rest, for which our contemporary praises him, it is in harmony with all he ever did or said toward the South, and we are pleased to see it find favor there.

No great reform in morals or in politics can be effected without at least the semblance of temporary tyranny. The law had to be disregarded and the constitution stretched in order to the abolition of slavery, and something akin to that must accompany the eradication of the rum power. And inasmuch as all literal law should be and is interpretable in the direction of honor, virtue and righteousness, there ought to be no great difficulty in so reading it in this case. What we want done is the crushing out of distilleries everywhere by the strong arm of national legislation. If there is no liquor nobody can drink it—the manufacturer of the article under protection of law is the fountain-head of all the trouble we have in respect of social and individual intoxication. If alcohol be absolutely needed for scientific and medicinal purposes, let it be made only by responsible persons and only in such quantities as may be needed; all under the control and vigilant supervision of the government.

Fitz John Porter.

Fitz John Porter has rested with what patience he might under the condemnation of a court-martial for several years. It will be recollected that charges were entered against him by General Pope, for misconduct during the war on several occasions at and previous to the battle of Bull Run. Porter was found guilty upon some of these by the evidence offered at the time, which it seems he was unable to rebut. Since then new testimony, not accessible before, has arisen which it is alleged will, if presented, put quite another phase upon the question of General Porter's innocence or guilt; which indeed will entirely exculpate him from the charges formerly made. For some time past he has attempted to procure a new trial for the proper introduction of this evidence. Delays have intervened and no hearing has yet been had. The other day, however, the Pennsylvania Legislature honored itself by passing, by a large majority, a preamble and resolution summarizing these facts and requesting the President to order another court-martial before which General Porter may appear to plead his case in the light of the fresh developments spoken. One member only of the Pennsylvania House spoke against the resolution on the ridiculous ground that he "knew of certain testimony of a very damaging character to Fitz John Porter." If so let that honorable member produce it at the court, for which he should have voted for that identical purpose. We cannot doubt that President Grant's sense of fair play and his soldierly instincts will lead him to do the right thing in this case.

The Senate Agrees.

As we predicted and as was very generally expected throughout the country, the temper of the Senate favors the consummation of the inflation scheme. The vote of Thursday, although not upon the House bill, is decisive of the character of the reception which awaits that measure when it comes before them. Both houses have now declared that $400,000,000 is the lawful sum-total of the legal tender issue; the arbitrary issue of the $44,000,000 reserve, or a part of it, by the Secretary of the Treasury has also been justified by Congress, and the doctrine established that the Executive Department may flood the country at pleasure with notes already called in and cancelled. When the final action which logically results from this preliminary vote shall have been taken, $18,000,000 more of irredeemable notes will be injected into the veins and arteries of trade. In view of this fact so near at hand, it will do no harm for us to refresh our memories as to the undeniable nature of the currency we shall be called upon to accept an increase of. Remember that a greenback is a promise to pay without any provision expressed or made for its redemption. Its value is just the value of the popular confidence in the veracity of the government—no more. A greenback is really worth less than the unendorsed note of an individual, for the reason that he can be sued in the courts for payment and Uncle Sam cannot. As a war measure in finance, as we have heretofore said, the issue of a vast amount of legal tenders needed no further justification than the situation which gave it birth; it is our persistent clinging to an idea suitable only for an emergency that has almost wrought our financial ruin. One thing more should, however, be said; a judicious scheme of redemption might offset to a degree the evils of inflation. But we hardly look to see one adopted.

"As He Used To."

There are but few words of all the myriads that pass our lips sadder than "It might have been." By reason of some subtle law of our complex nature, almost all retrospects are overhung with the cool, gray tints of a regret which is half self-condemnation. No one recurs to the thought of a vanished summer, standing at the time amid the rustling, crackling leaves, which are the faded memorials of its perished glory, without an undefined but no less real sense of ill-desert mingling with the certainty of loss. In respect to broken friendships and personal intimacies sundered by the manifold tangental forces that drive men apart, the idea that much of it might have been prevented is always an insinuating phase in the process of memory. It is a conclusion pretty generally agreed to by poets and rhapsodists not only, but also by the sober side of human nature not given to flights of eloquence or the soft jingle of the golden bells of rhyme, that friendships once formed are not to be thrown off for light and transient causes. Even our fathers, in the fearful but exalted days of the early summer of 1776, deemed their relation to the mother country sufficiently close to require at their hands an extended and entirely luminous declaration of their reasons for breaking it. It is an attribute, we take it, of all essentially noble souls always to mourn the death of a sweet, true sentiment and the friendly relation which inculcated it; never to refer to it in a burst of egotistic talk, or to use it to point the moral of a speech or sermon. Thinking thus, we are a degree surprised and correspondingly pained to hear Dr. Storrs allude to his David and Jonathan alliance with Mr. Beecher as a thing of the past. The fathers of these men were friends before them—the sons inheriting from them a sort of personal gravitation towards each other; and since the induction of both into the ministry in the same city, Dr. Storrs claims that the warmest sympathy has prevailed between them. The other day the Doctor mentioned this, but in the manner in which he would have spoken on a thing buried under the nodding daisies.—Making a more special reference to the power and usefulness of the pastor of Plymouth Church, the orator indicated that this also was now nothing more than a fading reminiscence. Particularizing the various points in politics or morals whereupon Mr. Beecher's voice has rung through the land in denunciation or in pleadings, the Doctor employed the funeral phrase, "As he used to." Now, under favor of all legalists and ultraists of every name, we beg to say that the best work of his life is being done now by the great preacher. He is not so sure of a few things as he was in his days of thicker brawn and mid-day popularity, but much surer of many more. These are the mellowest days for him of all the long rolling year; the time of the singing of birds is gone and now for him and his the crushed autumnal grape pours out its cordial wine. The gathered sheaves of a life rich in reflection and fraught with experience, are piled high to-day upon the platform of Plymouth Church. Unkindess can go no further than to say the wine is sour and the wheat is rusted; for, unless we are without natural authority to make a New England guess, Mr. Beecher, the best loved man in America, will preach better for the remainder of his life than "As he used to."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The Democrats voted unanimously against the transportation bill. State rights.

—Ben Butler is "aging" fast, they say. Is it remorse or hard work?

—The currency fight is one between brains and numbers, and numbers have it.

—The Brooklyn Argus would like to know Butler's opinion of that council.

—The result of the Bilbao fight it is thought will decide the fate of the Carlists or republicans of Spain.

—No taint of corruption is found in Senator Booth's case, and the friends of sterling honesty have occasion to rejoice.

—Now is the time to go west. The great through routes have made great reductions in rates.

—The Philadelphians are making a dead set for congressional help for the Centennial, but it seems to be no go.

—Dio Lewis is at work in Brooklyn now, but finds that city about as hard a nut as he has yet come across.

—The latest brutality is the "international pigeon-shooting match," at New York. Why not import bull-fighting and go the whole porcine?

—Eli Perkins is lecturing before a Kansas Young Men's Christian Association. It will develop the Christian virtue of patience, anyhow.

—The Irish Citizen advises emigrants to go south instead of west. The south certainly now seems to be an inviting field. But who would have thought it fifteen years ago?

—An effort is being made to have Lowenstein's sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. As the evidence against him was almost wholly circumstantial, there would seem to be reasons for commuting.

—It is said Ralph Waldo Emerson will receive the nomination for Lord Rector of the University of Glasgow, to succeed the Right Hon. Benjamin Disraeli. Which will be a deserved honor.

—The immunities of journalism in the west and south make that profession animated and interesting. The latest pleasantry is the Vicksburg affair, where an ex-policeman stabbed a local editor and was in turn shot and killed by the newspaper man. We can think of one moral to apply—to live long in the flowery south, don't stab local editors.

—A Washington dispatch says it may safely be said that petitions to the United States Senate for or against inflation have not the slightest effect. Of course not; "the voice of the people" isn't supposed to reach as high an elevation; but one of these days, when they go higher yet, the Senators may find out their mistake.

OUR ALBANY CORRESPONDENCE.

ALBANY, March 26, 1874.

EDITOR FREEMAN:—The chilly blasts of March on Tuesday last, and previously thereto, proved too much for a great many here, who were forced to go to bed, or into a fit of sneezing. Among the former I was counted, and as I nervously tossed about on a four dollar bedstead, and meditated upon the increasing chances which my indisposition gave legislators to study the finer legislative arts, I could but compare in my mind's eye the difference between virtue in public servants and the want of integrity in officials. Long did I study man as first made, and man as he is. I was led almost involuntarily to compare Adam before he eat that apple with the Railroad Committee, and I was very favorably impressed with Adam. In fact taking the said committee as a whole, and I'm not so sure that Adam was company for them after he reached the core of the aforesaid fruit.

As I predicted, the breeze over railway matters sprung up briskly on Friday last, but it was only a squall, to be followed—as it was—yesterday by a regular nor' wester.

Mayor Eastman is a man of a vast deal of energy and push, and is as full of practical ideas as a dozen ordinary men, but he generally requires somebody to carry out, dot out, put in form and shape his notions, which come to him crude. He introduced his Rapid Transit scheme some six weeks since, but Vanderbilt's crowd jumped on it with so many schemes that Mr. Eastman thought he would offer some amendments, and in doing so eliminated so many from his old one and placed in so many new ones that the Railroad Committee call it a "substitute." Of course the "substitute" came in several weeks after the original bill, but some time before Vanderbilt's scheme as reported last week. Hence, Mr. Eastman saw a nigger in the fence, especially as it was rumored that $12,000 had been flung around somewhat loosely. At all events enough had come to the front to convince Mr. Eastman that his duty required him to call upon the said committee to answer, and he did so by rising to a question of privilege, ending his speech by saying that he would in the regular order of business offer a resolution discharging the said committee from the further consideration of his bill, and thereby getting it before the House. That order of business—resolutions—the railway men of the House did not allow to be reached; Mr. Leake of New York moving to adjourn until Monday at 7½ P. M., which prevailed.

During the interim, I talked with quite a number of members, who seemed "hot" for Eastman, but strange to say when talked to on Wednesday morning were not disposed to favor the resolution. At all events, the railway men were so confident that Mr. Weed of the committee asked unanimous consent that the resolution go in, and after severe semi-personal debate, the redoutable Mayor's backbone took a "curve" and he withdrew the resolution. That he made a mistake is quite generally conceded, but others think not. At all events his warm friendship for Weed and others seems to have been sufficient to secure the action he took. It is said his bill will be reported this week. The great laugh comes in when such men as "Old Salt" and Lincoln get up to indulge in "fits" of virtuous indignation. Is it true that the Railroad Committee was made up at Vanderbilt's suggestion? If not, why do such names as Stover, Stephens, Mackin, Denniston, Morey and Weed appear on it? But enough of this at present; the door to the Railway Committee room ought to open, the drawer—now full of bills—be unlocked, and bills should and must come out. There are rumors of coming trouble on pro rata and and other bills, and unless Depew & Co. watch things closely "the boys" will put a bee in his bonnet, as they did when Alberger's Canada & Grand Trunk bill went through some time since.

The Supply Bill came in the House for the second time on Tuesday, and was made a special order for Wednesday, and the same has been discussed ever since with slight intermissions, when general business comes to the front. The Supply Bill looks like a pretty fair one, and thus far has not been seriously disturbed in its items. There is an item of $1,500,000 for the new Capitol, which shall be paid out by such person OR Commissioners as may be designated. The investigation in that matter is still going on, and it is hard to tell what the Senate Committee will find as matters of fact, or what it will recommend. Hence the peculiar language in the Supply Bill. I find also that Mr. Snyder has secured an item in the bill for the relief of Mr. Hommell, who was injured at Sing Sing. Mr. Winfield asserts that Snyder is preparing a speech on the "Dangers of the Hour, or the Corruption in the Past, in Legislative Halls." Winfield will speak at an early day upon the great question of the hour, "Who will elect the next Governor," or the "Incorruptibility of the Body Politic—in Ulster."

Senator Connelly is meditating as to what subject he will attack, and in the meantime pushes his Kingston Bank Bill through and gets a favorable report on the Rosendale Savings Bank Bill.

The Senate Committee has reported adversely the bill to exempt bonds and mortgages, but a motion was made to disagree, which was defeated, and then a motion was made to disagree and that the motion lie on the table. Carry the news to Mr. Brown.

Very little talk yet on that compulsory education bill, but will have next week, as we also shall have on that bill to abolish the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The question to-night is, shall the office of Superintendent of Repairs on the Canals be abolished and additional powers given the Canal Commissioners? It is leading to a deep and sharp debate. Messrs. Sloan, Alvord and Beebe are hammering away at it, and it seems as if Davis (Dem.) was the only Democrat who favors the bill. This canal business is very corrupt, and, strange to say, but few men in the state understand it at all. A few men run and have run the whole machine for years. The lamented Senator Hardenbergh pushed a like bill—to the one under discussion—through both houses, but the Governor vetoed it. Mr. Beebe thought the bill, if passed as a Republican party measure, ought not to go into effect until the people can elect such men as they shall desire to take control of the vast commercial interests involved. Mr. Beebe stood to-night like a wall of fire between the people and Alberger & Co., who seem to desire to rush it through. Beebe was successful, progress being reported.

I must give up the problem of adjournment; at this hour it looks some way in the future, but I reckon "the boys" would as soon lay around for a while longer for a bone or two, few having turned up as yet.

I came near forgetting to say that Mr. Snyder was in the chair last Tuesday evening and I will here say that he proved himself "a rattler" in dispatching business. He would make a good Speaker. CYRUS.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Mr. LOGAN took exception to Morrill's reason for withdrawal as being an insinuation that there were no brains in the Senate except in his own head.

Mr. SCHURZ called Logan to account for the discourteous style of his speech and a passage at arms ensued between these gentlemen, ended finally by mutual explanations.

Mr. MORRILL'S amendment having been withdrawn, the question recurred on the amendment of Logan to the substitute of Mr. Merrimon submitted last evening.

Mr. SHERMAN said the amendment of Senator Logan presented a simple question whether the Senate was in favor of free banking or not. If free banking should be established the banking capital would all concentrate within one hundred miles of New York city, and the west and south would be more dissatisfied than ever.

Mr. CONKLING of New York said the second section of the substitute submitted by the gentleman from North Carolina (Merrimon) provided for an increase of $16,000,000 in the national bank circulation, while the very next section, submitted by the gentleman from Illinois, provided for all the circulation which could be obtained.

Mr. GORDON of Georgia asked Logan to accept the third section of the committee's bill. He (Gordon) believed with Merrimon that if free banking was authorized the national banking capital would concentrate within one hundred miles of New York city. The committee's bill would better somewhat the south and west.

Mr. LOGAN said his purpose was to offer his amendmedt to the first section of the bill of the gentleman from North Carolina in place of the second section of that bill. It was offered yesterday at the hour of adjournment after a brief examination.

Mr. MORTON moved to strike out the section of the bill as reported by the committee, which provides for the redemption of United States notes on January 1st, 1876.

The CHAIR ruled that motion out of order at this time.

Mr. LOGAN said to test the sense of the Senate on this second section he would withdraw his amendment in order that Senator Morton might move to strike out the second section.

Mr. SHERMAN said this to him was the vital point in the bill and he hoped it would not be stricken out.

Mr. CAMERON moved that the Senate go into executive session.

Mr. HAMLIN moved to strike out of the second section of the financial bill January, 1876, as the time when United States notes should be redeemed in coin or interest-bearing bonds and insert the first of January, 1877, pending which the Senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business and adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. POLAND offered an amendment to the currency bill making it the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel as fast as practicable United States notes until their amount is reduced to $388,000,000, and then allow unlimited circulation to national banks.

Mr. MITCHELL addressed the House in opposition to the bill in a long and carefully prepared speech.

Mr. MERRIAM of New York, a member of the Banking Committee, addressed the House in advocacy of the bill, particularly the free banking features of it, as also did Hunter of Indiana, another member of the Banking Committee.

The House at 4:45 took a recess till 7:30, the evening session and the session to-morrow to be exclusively for debate on the currency bill.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session of the House was attended by not more than a dozen members and there was no interest in the proceedings, the speeches being merely written essays.

The Oxford and Cambridge Boat Race.

LONDON, March 27.—The race between the Oxford and Cambridge crews will take place at forty-five minutes past ten o'clock to-morrow morning. The rowing of the Oxford crew to-day showed continued improvement and their chances of success have brightened considerably. Betting this evening is about even. Light blue and dark blue rosettes, the respective colors of the Cambridge and Oxford crews, have been selling rapidly all day and now that there is a chance of Oxford winning the excitement is intense.

THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

LONDON, March 27.—In the House of Commons to-day Anderson asked how many Fenian convicts were still undergoing sentence where they were imprisoned and whether the government was or was not of the opinion that the time had came for their release.

Cross, the Home Minister, replied that the total number of these prisoners was sixteen. Two were now undergoing sentence for the Manchester murder but none for the Clerkenwell outrage. Two others were under sentence of imprisonment for fifteen years, one for seven years and eleven who had been soldiers were sentenced for life, having been convicted of supplying arms to and otherwise assisting insurgents. They were distributed as follows: Three were in England, eight in one part of Australia and two in another and three in Ireland. Cross concluded by declaring that the government had no intention of interfering with the execution of their sentences. This announcement was received by the House with cheers.

The Opposition Leadership.

OTTAWA, March 27.—Sir John A. MacDonald has formally resigned the leadership of the opposition, and Dr. Tuppee will probably be chosen to succeed him.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH.

OTTAWA, March 27.—The Governor-General's speech to Parliament to-day says attention will be called during the session to the question of the ballot in elections, to the establishment of a general court of appeal and the consideration of a plan for the more speedy completion of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Canal and harbor improvements are being vigorously prosecuted for the growing trade of the country. The report of the Chief Engineer of the proposed canal between the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Bay of Fundy will be submitted. Another year is required to complete the Inter-Colonial Railway and a bill will be introduced vesting its control in the Board of Public Works. The question of the compensation due the Dominion for fishing privileges conceded the United States by the treaty of Washington has occasioned a renewal of negotiations tending to widen the reciprocal trade relations with that country, the imperial authorities having directed the British minister to discuss the whole subject at Washington with the aid of a Canadian commissioner. The receipts of the current year will not meet expenditures and it will be necessary for Parliament to consider means to make good the anticipated deficiency. The Governor speaks favorably of the efforts to promote emigration and says notwithstanding the commercial depression that prevailed to some extent the past year the general prosperity will not be seriously affected.

The Fight at Bilbao.

MADRID, March 27.—Marshal Serrano in a dispatch to the War Office says his losses in the engagement yesterday were 188 men killed and wounded. His troops maintain all the positions they captured from the Carlists. The insurgents having massed he relinquished his intention of carrying the town of Pedro Abanto, till the movement now being performed by his right wing is completed.

BAYONNE, March 27.—Dispatches from Carlist sources dated Durango yesterday claim success for the insurgents in a two days' fighting with Marshal Serrano.

MADRID, March 27.—The battle of Thursday before Bilboa lasted thirteen hours. The latest dispatches from Marshal Serrano are very hopeful. Sixteen heavy guns were in good position for the attack on Pedra Abanto Friday.

FRANCE.

A Little Breeze in the Assembly.

PARIS, March 27.—In the Assembly to-day M. Dahirel, a Monarchist, moved that the Assembly take a vote on the first day of July to decide the future form of government for France. He urged that it was impossible to make a constitution without first settling the question whether France was to be a monarchy or republic. The motion caused great excitement in the chamber and a heated debate ensued. M. de Kendrel and Duke de Broglie spoke against it.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Another Appointment in Place of Hillyer.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The President has nominated Alexander P. Ketchum Appraiser of Merchandise at New York instead of William S. Hillyer, withdrawn.

STILL ANOTHER.

Pension Agent Bennett of San Francisco, who disappeared several months since and whose accounts were then reported correct, proves him to be a d[illegible]ter to a large amount. The examination is not concluded and the exact amount is not ascertained.

A FENIAN CASE.

The House Committee on Foreign Relations to-day voted to report and recommend the House to pass a resolution requesting the President to intercede with the government of Great Britain for the pardon and release of John Candon of Ohio, who is now confined in jail in England under sentence of life imprisonment for participation in Fenian raids.

CONFIRMATION BY THE SENATE.

The Senate has confirmed A. P. Ketchum as Appraiser of Merchandise at New York and W. S. Havens as Collector of Customs at Sag Harbor, New York.

STATE CAPITAL ITEMS.

The Editors and the Railroad Committee.

ALBANY, March 27.—The special committee of the Assembly appointed to hear evidence in regard to the charges made against the Committee on Railroads have sent to the editors of the Times, Herald, Graphic and Evening Mail a circular setting forth the resolution under which they were appointed, and inviting the said editors to appear before the committee on any day, except Saturday, for the next ten days at the Delavan House, Albany, to give evidence tending to impeach the integrity of the Railroad Committee or any member thereof.

SENATE.

ALBANY, March 27.

REPORTS.

Mr. TOBEY, from the Insurance Committee, to whom was referred the charges against the President and former Vice President of the Knickerbocker Life Insurance Company, reported that it appeared that the said charges had heretofore been investigated and dismissed by the Insurance Department and the Supreme Court. Therefore, in view of the fact that the President had resigned from the company, they asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Mr. TOBEY moved that the report be adopted, and that the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. Carried.

BILLS PASSED.

For the extension of time for the collection of taxes in the town of Catskill, Greene county.

Amending act for the more effectual protection of fruit growers against trespassers. Progressed.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. JOHNSON moved that the County Treasurer's bill be made a special order for Tuesday evening next, and that a session of the Senate be held at that time. Carried.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Mr. CONNELLY in the chair:

In relation to the publication of notices and citations. Progressed.

Mr. LEDWITH moved that when the Senate adjourn, it adjourn to meet on Monday evening. Lost—ayes 8, nays 17, as follows:

AYES—Messrs. Coe, Dow, Ganson, Gross, Ledwith, Parmenter, Ray, Tobey—8.

NOES—Messrs. Booth, Bradley, Cole, Connelly, Dayton, Dickinson, Jacobs, Johnson, King, Lowery, McGowan, Robertson, Selkreg, Thompson, Wellman, Wood, Woodin—17.

The Senate then went into Executive Session.

ASSEMBLY.

The bill providing for the appointment of additional Notaries Public was reported from the Judiciary Committee, amended, and read a third time and passed.

THE SUPPLY BILL.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. LINCOLN in the chair, on the Annual Supply Bill.

Mr. W. MILLER moved to strike out the appropriation of $300,000 for the completion of the State Reformatory at Elmira. He questioned whether the people of the state were willing to vote these immense amounts for public buildings. Those buildings now under way have already cost over seven and a half millions, as he showed by the figures presented by the Governor, who has pointedly condemned the whole system. If these works are completed according to the plans they will cost the State about $23,000,000. The new Capitol, as the Governor recommends, should be pushed as rapidly as possible so that it can be enclosed, but these other buildings should be stopped until some other plan can be devised for their construction. The work is now entrusted to local commissioners who have adopted a most wasteful scale of expenditure, and have undertaken much needless and foolish work. The State prison at Sing Sing for instance has no suitable wall about it, but at this Elmira Reformatory, though the building is not yet in existence, they have built a wall to enclose it which would keep out the entire National Guard of the State, even though it were commanded by the gallant soldier from the metropolis (Mr. Spencer.)

He argued at considerable length to show that the system of scattering these public buildings throughout the state and entrusting their construction to local and irresponsible commissions was all wrong. This work should be done under the control of state officers. Let us, he said, take the advice of the Governor in this respect. Let us drop all these buildings, except the new Capitol. That great work we must now complete in the shortest possible time, and though he thought it would be better if that were taken out of the hands of a commission, it would yet be unwise to now make a change in the plan of the construction. We should, however, in justice to taxpayers, drop everything not of pressing necessity until the new Capitol is finished.

Mr. BATCHELLER defended the action of the committee in inserting these appropriations. He said the committee had regarded only the needs of the state with reference to the criminals and insane. It was necessary to find room for them, and in providing that room they had no regard to considerations or locality. It is well known that all the prisons are overcrowded and immediate provision for the overplus is urgently needed. At this time there are over seven hundred state prison convicts for whom there is literally no room. There are also about five hundred insane for whom there is no room, and at Utica they have to sleep upon the floor and in cots because there are no accommodations for them. We should cut off where we can afford to cut off; but we must take care of our criminals and those who are unable to take care of themselves. The committee believe that the needs of the state require these appropriations. We could cut off the supplies to able-bodied men, but we cannot stint our aid to the helpless. He contended that the buildings had been constructed with economy, and the extra sums are for outbuildings, etc.

He admitted that the original plans of the Elmira Reformatory were extravagant, but they have been changed so that the cost of construction will be greatly reduced. The expenditure of the money has been placed in the hands of gentlemen in whom the Governor has confidence, and he did not think the accommodations so urgently required could be furnished for less money. The ornamental work which had been so much objected to has been dispensed with, and the plans have been actually reduced to the minimum of cost. The committee, however, were not satisfied with the assurance that such was the case, and they have provided that the change of plans shall be approved and certified to by the Governor and Comptroller before the money is paid, and these officers must require the production of vouchers and other papers. They have full control of the matter. The committee found themselves face to face with the necessities of the day, and they have decided that, taking everything into consideration, we must go on and complete these structures. There are necessities of the case for which this Legislature is not responsible. There has been extravagance in the construction of these buildings, but such measures have been taken as he thought would effectually prevent any more wasteful expenditure.

In the House Mr. BATCHELLER moved that a special session be held from three o'clock until five o'clock. If this was done he said the Supply Bill could be ordered to a third reading to-day. This he thought would be a fair compromise with those who desired to adjourn until Monday, as he would vote with them to adjourn from five o'clock until Monday night.

Mr. C. S. SPENCER spoke against the motion. He moved to amend so that when the House adjourns it be until Monday evening.

The ayes and noes were called for on Mr. Spencer's amendment, and it was carried—63 to 51.

The question being on the motion of Mr. BATCHELLER, as amended, that gentleman arose and charged that this attempted postponement was in the direct interest of dishonesty. He knew something of the combinations which are being formed, and he knew a postponement would be dangerous. He conjured the Republican members of the House not to place themselves in the hands of this combination. The Republican majority would be responsible for this postponement, and he thought it was a responsibility which it could ill afford to carry.

Mr. Beebe could not see things in the light as just represented. There was no danger in letting the Supply Bill go over until next week. If the bill was on its final passage it would be another matter. It was not a bill that should be hurried through. No harm could come to the state if we did not hold an afternoon session. He had contracted engagements which compelled him to leave on an early train. The New York Times had declared that it should criticise closely the records of members of the Legislature. For one (and he thought more of that sheet than did many Republicans on the floor of this House), that paper was welcome to his record, and if it denounced him he would not attempt to drag the editors forth from the privacy of their sanctums. He voted to adjourn till Monday evening.

Mr. C. S. SPENCER, in the course of his remarks, asked Mr. Batcheller if he suspected him (Spencer) of being interested in any corrupt claims which he was seeking to get into the Supply Bill?

Mr. BATCHELLER responded that there was a powerful lobby here for the purpose of getting claims in that bill, but he did not charge Mr. Spencer with any unworthy motives with respect to any of them.

Mr. C. S. SPENCER was thankful for the manly statement. All the interest he had was in some additions he wanted made to the pay of some little boys and maimed and wounded men. He voted to adjourn.

After further discussion, the motion to adjourn to Monday evening was adopted, 61 to 52.

Adjourned to Monday evening at 7 1-2 o'clock.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

The Japs Seeking Light.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Mayor Havemeyer has received a communication from the municipal directory of Yokohama, Japan, asking for the text of the code of municipal regulations and by-laws of New York and a copy of the articles of incorporation from the state.

BISHOP CUMMINS ILL.

The health of Bishop Cummins of the Reformed Episcopal Church is so much impaired that he has been compelled to abandon work and leave the city.

THE ERIE STRIKE.

The freight hands of the Erie Railway now on strike held a meeting to-night and resolved to accept the terms offered by the company. They will resume work to-morrow.

The men employed at the new tunnel through Bergen Hill struck this afternoon for $2 per day. They have been receiving $1.25. A squad of 200 men left Jersey City for Susquehanna to-night to guard the property of the Erie Company at that place.

THE CONGREGATIONAL COUNCIL.

The afternoon session was continued till after 6 o'clock, when a recess was taken till 9. The evening session was short. The members assembled in the private lecture room of the church about 9 o'clock, but did not retire into secret session until about 10 owing to the fact that the committee appointed at the morning session to draft resolutions embodying the advice to the council of both churches was unable to agree. This committee is composed of five clergy and three laymen, the names of some of whom only could be ascertained, viz.: Messrs. Quint, Post, Smythe and Hammond. Shortly before 11 o'clock the committee were sent for and stated that they had not yet agreed. On motion the council then adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning. Immediately on the adjournment of the council the committee retired again to complete their resolutions and did not separate until a late hour. The members of the committee were very reticent and would not say as to whether or not they had agreed on the matter they had under consideration.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Destruction at Port Henry.

RUTLAND, March 27.—A destructive fire occurred in Port Henry, N. Y. last night, commencing at about 11 o'clock, and was not stayed until a large number of business places of the village were laid in ruins. The stock market opened active at ⅛ to 1¾ higher than closing quotations of yesterday. The action of the Senate on the $400,000,000 amendment to Sherman's bill had already induced quite an active speculation at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last evening; later there was a falling off in principal stocks of ⅛ to 1⅜ per cent. on realization, which was followed by a recovery. During the afternoon the whole market was weak on Washington dispatches reporting debate on Sherman's bill, showing considerable opposition by Senator Morrill of Vermont and others. The decline ranged from ⅛ to 1⅜ per cent., with Pacific Mail, Western Union, Lake Shore, New York Central and Union Pacific as the principal features. Dealings were heavy, the total sales for the day being about 310,000 shares. Gold closed at 113. Money 4. Governments strong. State bonds quiet. Stocks active at weaker prices.

—Four platform cars will be put on the horse railroad this morning—provided conductors can be hired for them.

—Father O'Farrell's advice to the youths in this city has already borne good fruit—there are not so many rude boys to be found on street corners.

—The City Hotel omnibus will run to the Baldwin Sunday nights as heretofore during the boating season, commencing next Sunday.

—The real estate of John Schaller, situated on Greenkill avenue, near Union avenue, was sold on Thursday at auction by S. S. Westbrook for $4,250, to Frank Bailey.

—Now we see the canal horses and mules slowly perambulating through the streets.—Many of those animals would make good troopers—they would sooner die than run.

—The carpenter work of the new Lutheran Church has been let to Wm. P. Mickens, and the masonry to Peter Gill. The edifice will be built immediately.

—The Poughkeepsie Savings Bank, which loans a great deal of money in this city, has notified its customers that interest will hereafter be payable semi-annually.

—The candidates for District Attorney are all going to join the temperance band. There's nothing like popularity and being with the strongest party, you know.

—The New Paltz Independent calls Kingston a one-horse city because it allows that toll-gate. We very freely admit, Mr. Independent, that there is a great deal of force in that remark.

—There are no less than five church members uptown who lease buildings for the sale of rum. And some of these shops or saloons are the worst in the city, one being a house of prostitution and rum-selling combined.

—An exchange asks "are blacksmiths who make a living by forging, or carpenters who do a little counter fitting, any worse than men who sell iron and steel for a living?" Nixy.

—The annual ceremony of house cleaning is rapidly approaching. Usually the sterner sex have business that suddenly calls them from home on the very day their wives commence to clean house. The moral philosophy of man is immense.

—Now that the streets are so clean Con Hanlon's sprinkling cart won't be soiled and the varnish on his red, white and blue horse with the green ears and tail, has become dry, that gorgeous establishment, with Con dressed as Amphrodite seated on top the water tank, will make its triumphal rounds on Monday next.

—There's a lively time uptown now-a-days; the fast young men are bombarded continually with petitions, pledges, &c., in the hands of the ladies, and though they do not all sign it is a hard matter sometimes to say no. We saw three young lawyers Friday take rapid flight at the sight of a woman with a book and pencil, but she said humbly, "Never mind, I will call again." And there isn't a doubt but she will keep calling until those gentlemen are forced to face the music, either to sign or refuse point blank.

—The young belles who live in the proximity of Cedar street or thereabouts, gave a masquerade at Voorhees Hall on Thursday night. It was a very pleasant entertainment, and the dancers enjoyed themselves so well they couldn't have the heart to go home until morning. We cannot describe the costumes; they were of every imaginable type, pattern, historical and otherwise. The ladies were very handsome, and their bright eyes were so very bright, and their rosy cheeks so very red, their blushes could almost be seen through the masks. Burger's band gave the music, and all went merry as a marriage bell. One of The Freeman carriers was there, and it is safe to say he never before was out quite so early to deliver his papers, as on Friday morning.

Boating on the Del. & Hudson Canal.

Boating for the season of 1874 will commence on the Delaware & Hudson canal, provided the weather is favorable, on Wednesday, April 1st.

The City Hall Corner Stone.

The Common Council have decided to have the corner stone of the City Hall laid on Thursday, April 9th, at 2 P. M., and have invited the Masonic fraternity to officiate on the occasion.

Pigeons.

By our last dispatches from Big Indian we are informed the pigeons are about commensing to nest in Big Indian Hollow.

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

Visit of the Ladies to the Common Council.

The most interesting circumstance at the Common Council meeting last evening was the visit of the ladies who came to petition that body to take some action regarding the liquor traffic in the city. The report that the ladies were to make this visit had drawn a large crowd and the lobby of Fireman's Hall was filled with curious spectators. The room of A. Sahler Hook & Ladder Company, adjoining that in which the Common Council holds its session, was thrown open and lighted and seats placed for the convenience of the expected visitors, and on the side wall was the legend in large letters formed of evergreens, "A. Sahler Hook & Ladder Company, No. 1," thus linking with the affair the name of the "Alderman from the First," who had been the first to espouse the cause the ladies represented. About half-past eight o'clock the doors were opened and a large company of ladies and gentlemen, numbering sixty or seventy, entered, and quietly seated themselves. The Common Council at the same time were considering a temperance petition from a large number of signers in the lower part of the city. Pending its decision Alderman Sahler moved that any of the ladies or gentlemen present who wished to speak be heard by the Common Council, when a number of the ladies stepped forward, and Mrs. H. Winchester read the following petition, while the crowd in the lobby pressed eagerly forward to listen:

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Kingston:—We, the undersigned, citizens of Kingston, male and female, respectfully petition your honorable body to instruct the Excise Commissioners to grant no licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors during the ensuing year.

Mrs. Winchester then in a low, slightly tremulous voice, made a brief address, stating that the ladies had secured over 1,000 signatures to the above petition, which they now laid before the Common Council.

Mrs. Winchester was followed by Rev. Messrs. Mickie and Ostrander, in advocacy of the petition.

The petition was received and referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances, who subsequently reported on the petition previously referred to them, defineing the operations of the liquor license law, and declaring that action by the Common Council was unnecessary, which report was accepted.

Temperance Resolutions.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the Presbyterian Church uptown Thursday evening, which we did not receive in time for publication in the report of the meeting yesterday:

Whereas, The New Testament gives us the first great temperance pledge, to-wit: "It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak;" and whereas, great numbers of men in our own city, of every age, station and talent, have been brought into temptation, made weak, caused to stumble and utterly destoyed through alcoholic drinks; therefore

Resolved, That we urge upon every one total abstinence from any and all manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage.

Second, That as women have been the greatest sufferers from intemperance, we heartily rejoice in the success of the temperance efforts which Christian women are making at the west, and we do most heartily urge upon the women of our city constant prayer and the use of all the means which Christian wisdom shall prompt for the complete suppression of intemperance.

Third, That we strenuously urge upon the Common Council of the city of Kingston the passage of the resolution against the granting of any licenses whatsoever for the sale of alcoholic drinks.

Fourth, That the Common Council of this city be requested to pass an ordinance, supplementing the state law, providing for the more speedy punishment of violators of the excise laws.

On Ventilation.

We should think it was about time the people of this city began to learn the benefit of a well ventilated room, as three audiences have been pretty nearly suffocated within the past two weeks. During the delivery of Rev. Mr. Mickles' sermon on dancing last Sunday night, several persons fainted, though a number of the windows were opened at the top. At the large temperance meeting in the Second Reformed Church basement, one window was lowered, but so much objection was made by the dominies even that was closed, and the audience of some five hundred people were forced to breath the poisoned air for the period of two hours. At the Presbyterian church Thursday night there was a crowd of nearly six hundred persons; the air of the church was bad when the audience went into it, and but one window was lowered during the two hours and a half session; this window was lowered about four inches, but the blinds were left closed. It has been demonstrated that a full grown person will render impure five cubic feet of air per hour by respiration. Six hundred persons then would make impure six thousand cubic feet of air during a two hours' session, and to properly ventilate the church nearly every window should have been lowered and the blinds unclosed. Incalculable injury is done to the health of many persons by this wholesale poisoning, so that we sometimes think it is a downright disgrace, that the good done at these gatherings should only be effected at such a sacrifice.

Music Hall To-Night.

This evening Ben. F. Bowen's New York Variety, accompanied by a silver cornet band, give one of their entertainments in Music Hall, and on Monday evening the same troupe appear in Washington Hall. Among the most popular portions of the entertainment are the lightning changes and the vocalism by the Misses West and Cotenridge respectively; old Dick Berthelon, well known here, with his banjo; A. H. Searless, the champion club swinger; Smith and McDermott, song and dance men; John McCarton, Dutch eccentricities; Johnny Hawkins, Ethiopian comedian, and Frank West, a very pleasing Irish vocalist. The troupe have appeared in several down-the-river towns and are highly spoken of by the press.

Death of Another Old Pilot.

Peter Bradt, an old Hudson River pilot, died in New York on Tuesday last. His remains were taken to Albany on Wednesday on the steamer Drew. Mr. Bradt was a pilot for more than forty years. He was for some years pilot on the steamer Williamsburgh, now the Baltic of Cornell's line. He was also pilot of the Isaac Newton for three years. He retired from service on the river about ten years since. He was buried from the Baptist church in Greenbush on Thursday afternoon.

Stoning a Church.

Last Thursday evening while services were being held in the Baptist church, some miscreants disturbed the worshippers to a considerable extent by throwing stones through the windows and firing pistols near the building. There is no clew to the perpetrators of the deed, but we trust they may be found and severely dealt with.—Rhinebeck Gazette.

A Race in the Clouds.

Mr. J. W. Moore of this town has accepted Prof. Fisher's challenge of $2,000 to compete in a balloon ascension on the Fourth of July. The Professor goes up in his new mammoth, "City of Vienna," while Mr. Moore uses the "City of Paris." The ascension is to be made either in Rhinebeck or Saratoga.—Rhinebeck Gazette.

—Somebody reported that Lester Winfield tried to get a drink on election day, and that lengthy scribbler is out with a card indignantly denying the story.

Personal.

Mr. Aaron Hoes, of this city, will remove soon to West Kill, Greene county.

Rev. A. A. Farr, who has endeared himself to the people of the Second Reformed Church of this city by his successful labors among them, will spend Sunday, to-morrow, with that people.

Justice Josiah DuBois was taken suddenly and very severely ill on Thursday night with pleurisy. During Friday he suffered great pain and was an extremely sick man. We trust the 'Squire will soon recover his usual good health.

Dr. Stephen Gerow, who for many years has been located at New Paltz, is about to remove to the city of New York. Dr. E. H. Loughran of this city, will take his place in New Paltz. Mr. Loughran is a good physician and a man of excellent moral character.

Hon. Hector Abeel, Hon. John D. Winfield, Hon. Matthew Griffin and Hon. Charles F. Houghton, Assemblymen from the Second District of Steuben county, passed through the city last evening.

Naming a Craft.

The New York Sun has this scrap of local history: Many years ago there lived at Wappingers Creek on the Hudson a ship carpenter who was troubled to find a proper name for a sloop he had on the stocks. His neighbors quizzed him so much that he at last came to the singular resolve that whatever word any person should say who next passed him on the road should be the name by which he should christen the craft. Pretty soon a huge Dutchess county wagon hove in sight, on the front seat of which were two farmers in eager conversation. "Who would have thought it?" said one man to the other, and so the poor little vessel had, "Who would have thought it? of Wappingers Creek," painted on her, and there are elderly people now living in that vicinity who remember well the strangely named vessel.

Runaway.

On Friday forenoon Captain Peter Burger and his wife, who reside on Hasbrouck avenue in this city, left home to go to Creek Locks to attend the funeral of a sister of Mrs. Burger. When they got just below Gross' mill on the avenue, the horse became frightened and ran away, throwing both the captain and Mrs. Burger to the ground, and inflicting a severe cut on the knee of the former, while Mrs. Burger received a deep cut over one eye and was much bruised about the body. The injured woman was taken up insensible and carried into the house of Mr. E. J. Mesereau, where her injuries were attended to, and some hours after consciousness was restored she was removed to her home. The wagon was considerably damaged but the horse was uninjured.

Temperance.

The action of the temperance men on Thursday night in regard to expelling church members who sell liquor or lease buildings for the sale of it, has created a great sensation uptown. A number of prominent church men, who own buildings that are rented for the business of selling liquor, fluttered around the streets in great trepidation. Knots of prominent men discussed the question on the street corners, some of whom claimed if this resolution was carried out, the church would lose some of its best paying members. In some of the law offices the discussion waxed hot, and take it all in all this movement has created more of a sensation than all the resolutions that have heretofore been passed. Why? Because it looks like action.

No License in Marbletown.

Though the rumsellers of the town of Marbletown combined and defeated F. D. L. Montanye for Justice because of his refusal to grant any licenses, the new town board is firm against granting any licenses, and so far have refused to grant a single one. Still the liquor dealers sell about as much as ever, and the temperance men are about to form an organization for the prosecution of all who sell. A sufficient sum of money will be raised for the purpose.

Fire at Shokan.

A barn belonging to John J. Boice at West Shokan was fired by the locomotive of a passing train on the N. Y., K. & S. Railroad Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock, and wholly consumed with contents. There were five tons of hay, some straw, one horse, sleighs, harness, threshing machines and other farming utensils in the barn. The loss was about $1,800. The property was well insured in the New York Central Insurance Company.

Encourage the Birds.

Katie Sparrow, Jennie Wren and Robert Bluebird have arrived in force, and are quite exercised about a place to live and carry on their usual domestic business. They are very welcome visitors, and every family should provide at least one cottage suitable to their wants. Go to work, boys, and put up a few boxes for the songsters. They will pay you well for it with choice, sweet music, every morning before you are up.

Handsome Pulpit Furniture.

Mr. George L. Wachmeyer has the desk and pulpit furniture for the new Presbyterian church finished. The desk is of blackwalnut, as are the chairs, very handsomely carved after designs by the architect of the building. The furniture is trimmed with green rep of a handsome shade, and the work reflects great credit both on the designer and the executor.

N. Y., K. & S. R. R. Receiver.

Strong efforts are being made by the creditors of the N. Y., K. & S. R. R. Company to have a new receiver appointed. As the claims of the bondholders and creditors are diametrically opposed, there can be no reconciliation in the matter, and it will only end when one or the other of the parties are worsted.

COUNTY.

—A Kingston jeweler will soon locate at Rosendale.

—Highland people are going to lay sidewalks.

—Luther Dubois of New Paltz will remove to Kingston.

—The Ellenville stage-driver says the roads have never been better at this time of the year than they are now.

—The engine house of the Midland Railroad in Ellenville was destroyed by fire Thursday. The loss was not very large.

—The fields on the Ellenville road are white—not exactly for the harvest—but with lime and plaster, which the farmers are scattering plentifully over their land.

—A valuable horse owned by Day Hardenbergh ran away in Lackawack last Sunday. The driver was thrown from the wagon and the horse killed.

—The Town Board of Saugerties have notified the Overseer of the Poor that they will audit no more bills for the support of traveling paupers.

—The new mill of the Rosendale & New York Cement Company is the finest in the county, and an ornament to the village of Rosendale.

—The Paltz Point House is now a very sightly object, and is very plainly discernible from the Rondout valley. Its dimensions are now greatly extended and its accommodations much increased.

—The letting of water in the canal causes all the little villages to prick up, and business begins to start. Everybody is making a little change in something so as to make it a little more shipshape.

—Money appears to be very scarce in the back towns, although not so much so as during the winter. The starting of the numerous cement mills and the canal will soon begin to diminish the stringency.

—A considerable portion of the roadway at Lefever's Falls has slid down, though the earth was kept from reaching the canal. The road at this point is positively dangerous, and should be protected for the entire distance by a strong fence.

—Kerhonkson is receiving hoop-poles in considerable quantity. A large share of them come from Samsonville. The drivers of the wagons are very independent and drive right ahead over anything. One of them even drove over a torchlight procession in the Presidential campaign.

—The sheds of the Reformed Church of Rochester are in a very bad shape. A snow-storm a year or so ago broke a large portion of them down, and the congregation doesn't seem to have had enough energy to repair them, or at least its energy hasn't taken that direction.

—The D. & H. Canal Company owe it to the country through which their canal passes to repaint their bridges. The valley is truly rural and pretty, and the abominable red of the bridges is an offence against good taste. While we do not believe in white houses, white bridges on the other hand would be a great improvement.

—The county is overrun with pedlers' wagons. A person stopping at a country store for an hour will hardly see less than half-a-dozen, selling everything from pills to boots and shoes, all with heavily loaded wagons. Most of them, however, find it too early to make large sales.

—Ellenville is in mourning. The girls still refuse to attend any sociable held at a hotel, and as there are no other places society is draped in the blackest of mourning weeds. The girls, under the circumstances, show remarkable self-denial, and their motto, "No pledge no dance," has already developed crape and mourning bands.

VICINITY.

—Hudson is to have a boat club. Why not Kingston, also?

—Westchester has organized a historical society.

—George C. Gibbs, formerly of Andes, has been elected Mayor of Polo, Ills.

—Washingtonville wants a fire department and a few fires.

—The Newburgh Daily Telegraph establishment is announced for sale April 16th.

—Monroe is to be incorporated and improved.

—The Jeffersonian has been enlarged and improved.

—John R. Rynders has leased the Rhinebeck Driving Park for $250 per year.

—The Rhinebeck Gazette is publishing the history of the town in weekly installments.

—Catskill is doing a heavy maple sugar trade. It don't sweeten its disposition any.

—The steamer Armenia is to run between Albany and New York.

—The new United States Hotel at Saratoga requires 33,000 yards of carpet.

—Joseph Hyde of Newburgh has a petrified honey comb. He has been offered $50 for it, but won't sell.

—Hon. Matthew Griffin thinks he can get $100,000 from the Legislature in aid of the Delhi & Middletown R. R.

—A Newburgh lawyer named John B. Fenton has "hypothecated" a lot of money left on his hands by clients and gone away.

—A valuable bed of hematite ore has been discovered near Monroe, and a Pennsylvania company wants to buy.

—A large fire in Troy is supposed to have originated from a spark from a passing steamer on the river.

—A Lansingburgh sexton got drunk last Sunday, and the pastor had to open and close not only the services, but the sanctuary doors.

—Father O'Hare, the Goshen priest who assaulted Miss Conkling, has been held in $200 bail to appear before the Grand Jury.

—The receipts for rent alone of the Rhinebeck Town Hall last year were $722.60, and the Gazette thinks no better investment could have been made by the town.

—The Catskill Recorder don't understand Mr. Lockwood's horse railroad bill and pertinently inquires, "Whose African is in this brush-heap?"

—The Poughkeepsie Eagle claims to be in possession of information that shows positively that Waltz is really insane. Dr. Kellogg of the Hudson River Insane Asylum is reported to give a decided opinion to that effect.

—A Troy firm made the anchor chain for the big Pacific Mail steamer City of Pekin. The chain weighs 40 tons, and is composed of 1,800 links, each a foot long. It cost about $5,000.

—They are trying to shut the rum trade in Montgomery down to two hotels and two saloons, and it is proposed by some of the reformers to sell the licenses to the four highest bidders. If the other rum-holes are shut up, we should say those four would have a soft thing of it.

—The Goshen and Monticello papers are having a few words about paupers. The Goshen Independent Republican says when the Sullivan county authorities want to show off their well-conditioned paupers they are in the habit of greasing skeletons and exhibiting them as fat men.

—The following interesting agreement was found in the pocket of a young Troy scapegrace arrested for burglary: "I, the undersigned, Sarah Ann Brown, do solemnly agree to release the said Andrew Gearon of the city of Troy, county of Rensselaer, state of New York, from all claims pertaining to holy matrimony, he being young and not qualified to enter into such a state at present."

—Fosterdale, Sullivan county, dotes on a trained calf that can waltz and dance a quadrille. That's nothing, we've often seen calves in waltzes and quadrilles. A representative of the wealth and culture of Monticello refused to contribute ten cents toward buying an almost freezing child some warm clothing. Sullivan county ought to put this educated hog and her trained calf together and start a side show.—Catskill Recorder.

CITY NOTES.

—The club-rooms uptown have the neatest awnings for their windows in the city.

—The horse railroad is having four new platform cars constructed.

—The average male youth is now exasperated at being compelled to clean up the dooryard.

—Canal boatmen are getting their boats in readiness against the opening on Wednesday next.

—Lots of horses uptown for sale, a lot at Hauver's and another lot at the City Hotel. They can be had for all prices, up or down.

—Four platform cars will be put on the horse railroad this morning—provided conductors can be hired for them.

—Father O'Farrell's advice to the youths in this city has already borne good fruit—there are not so many rude boys to be found on street corners.

—The City Hotel omnibus will run to the Baldwin Sunday nights as heretofore during the boating season, commencing next Sunday.

—The real estate of John Schaller, situated on Greenkill avenue, near Union avenue, was sold on Thursday at auction by S. S. Westbrook for $4,250, to Frank Bailey.

—Now we see the canal horses and mules slowly perambulating through the streets.—Many of those animals would make good troopers—they would sooner die than run.

—The carpenter work of the new Lutheran Church has been let to Wm. P. Mickens, and the masonry to Peter Gill. The edifice will be built immediately.

—The Poughkeepsie Savings Bank, which loans a great deal of money in this city, has notified its customers that interest will hereafter be payable semi-annually.

—The candidates for District Attorney are all going to join the temperance band. There's nothing like popularity and being with the strongest party, you know.

—The New Paltz Independent calls Kingston a one-horse city because it allows that toll-gate. We very freely admit, Mr. Independent, that there is a great deal of force in that remark.

—There are no less than five church members uptown who lease buildings for the sale of rum. And some of these shops or saloons are the worst in the city, one being a house of prostitution and rum-selling combined.

—An exchange asks "are blacksmiths who make a living by forging, or carpenters who do a little counter fitting, any worse than men who sell iron and steel for a living?" Nixy.

—The annual ceremony of house cleaning is rapidly approaching. Usually the sterner sex have business that suddenly calls them from home on the very day their wives commence to clean house. The moral philosophy of man is immense.

—Now that the streets are so clean Con Hanlon's sprinkling cart won't be soiled and the varnish on his red, white and blue horse with the green ears and tail, has become dry, that gorgeous establishment, with Con dressed as Amphrodite seated on top the water tank, will make its triumphal rounds on Monday next.

—There's a lively time uptown now-a-days; the fast young men are bombarded continually with petitions, pledges, &c., in the hands of the ladies, and though they do not all sign it is a hard matter sometimes to say no. We saw three young lawyers Friday take rapid flight at the sight of a woman with a book and pencil, but she said humbly, "Never mind, I will call again." And there isn't a doubt but she will keep calling until those gentlemen are forced to face the music, either to sign or refuse point blank.

—The young belles who live in the proximity of Cedar street or thereabouts, gave a masquerade at Voorhees Hall on Thursday night. It was a very pleasant entertainment, and the dancers enjoyed themselves so well they couldn't have the heart to go home until morning. We cannot describe the costumes; they were of every imaginable type, pattern, historical and otherwise. The ladies were very handsome, and their bright eyes were so very bright, and their rosy cheeks so very red, their blushes could almost be seen through the masks. Burger's band gave the music, and all went merry as a marriage bell. One of The Freeman carriers was there, and it is safe to say he never before was out quite so early to deliver his papers, as on Friday morning.

Boating on the Del. & Hudson Canal.

Boating for the season of 1874 will commence on the Delaware & Hudson canal, provided the weather is favorable, on Wednesday, April 1st.

The City Hall Corner Stone.

The Common Council have decided to have the corner stone of the City Hall laid on Thursday, April 9th, at 2 P. M., and have invited the Masonic fraternity to officiate on the occasion.

Pigeons.

By our last dispatches from Big Indian we are informed the pigeons are about commensing to nest in Big Indian Hollow.

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

Visit of the Ladies to the Common Council.

The most interesting circumstance at the Common Council meeting last evening was the visit of the ladies who came to petition that body to take some action regarding the liquor traffic in the city. The report that the ladies were to make this visit had drawn a large crowd and the lobby of Fireman's Hall was filled with curious spectators. The room of A. Sahler Hook & Ladder Company, adjoining that in which the Common Council holds its session, was thrown open and lighted and seats placed for the convenience of the expected visitors, and on the side wall was the legend in large letters formed of evergreens, "A. Sahler Hook & Ladder Company, No. 1," thus linking with the affair the name of the "Alderman from the First," who had been the first to espouse the cause the ladies represented. About half-past eight o'clock the doors were opened and a large company of ladies and gentlemen, numbering sixty or seventy, entered, and quietly seated themselves. The Common Council at the same time were considering a temperance petition from a large number of signers in the lower part of the city. Pending its decision Alderman Sahler moved that any of the ladies or gentlemen present who wished to speak be heard by the Common Council, when a number of the ladies stepped forward, and Mrs. H. Winchester read the following petition, while the crowd in the lobby pressed eagerly forward to listen:

TO THE HONORABLE THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON:—We, the undersigned, citizens of Kingston, male and female, respectfully petition your honorable body to instruct the Excise Commissioners to grant no licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors during the ensuing year.

Mrs. Winchester then in a low, slightly tremulous voice, made a brief address, stating that the ladies had secured over 1,000 signatures to the above petition, which they now laid before the Common Council.

Mrs. Winchester was followed by Rev. Messrs. Mickle and Ostrander, in advocacy of the petition.

The petition was received and referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances, who subsequently reported on the petition previously referred to them, defineing the operations of the liquor license law, and declaring that action by the Common Council was unnecessary, which report was accepted.

Temperance Resolutions.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the Presbyterian Church uptown Thursday evening, which we did not receive in time for publication in the report of the meeting yesterday:

Whereas, The New Testament gives us the first great temperance pledge, to-wit: "It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak;" and whereas, great numbers of men in our own city, of every age, station and talent, have been brought into temptation, made weak, caused to stumble and utterly destoyed through alcoholic drinks; therefore

Resolved, That we urge upon every one total abstinence from any and all manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage.

Second, That as women have been the greatest sufferers from intemperance, we heartily rejoice in the success of the temperance efforts which Christian women are making at the west, and we do most heartily urge upon the women of our city constant prayer and the use of all the means which Christian wisdom shall prompt for the complete suppression of intemperance.

Third, That we strenuously urge upon the Common Council of the city of Kingston the passage of the resolution against the granting of any licenses whatsoever for the sale of alcoholic drinks.

Fourth, That the Common Council of this city be requested to pass an ordinance, supplementing the state law, providing for the more speedy punishment of violators of the excise laws.

On Ventilation.

We should think it was about time the people of this city began to learn the benefit of a well ventilated room, as three audiences have been pretty nearly suffocated within the past two weeks. During the delivery of Rev. Mr. Mickles' sermon on dancing last Sunday night, several persons fainted, though a number of the windows were opened at the top. At the large temperance meeting in the Second Reformed Church basement, one window was lowered, but so much objection was made by the dominies even that was closed, and the audience of some five hundred people were forced to breath the poisoned air for the period of two hours. At the Presbyterian church Thursday night there was a crowd of nearly six hundred persons; the air of the church was bad when the audience went into it, and but one window was lowered during the two hours and a half session; this window was lowered about four inches, but the blinds were left closed. It has been demonstrated that a full grown person will render impure five cubic feet of air per hour by respiration. Six hundred persons then would make impure six thousand cubic feet of air during a two hours' session, and to properly ventilate the church nearly every window should have been lowered and the blinds unclosed. Incalculable injury is done to the health of many persons by this wholesale poisoning, so that we sometimes think it is a downright disgrace, that the good done at these gatherings should only be effected at such a sacrifice.

Music Hall To-Night.

This evening Ben. F. Bowen's New York Variety, accompanied by a silver cornet band, give one of their entertainments in Music Hall, and on Monday evening the same troupe appear in Washington Hall. Among the most popular portions of the entertainment are the lightning changes and the vocalism by the Misses West and Cotenridge respectively; old Dick Berthelon, well known here, with his banjo; A. H. Searless, the champion club swinger; Smith and McDermott, song and dance men; John McCarton, Dutch eccentricities; Johnny Hawkins, Ethiopian comedian, and Frank West, a very pleasing Irish vocalist. The troupe have appeared in several down-the-river towns and are highly spoken of by the press.

Death of Another Old Pilot.

Peter Bradt, an old Hudson River pilot, died in New York on Tuesday last. His remains were taken to Albany on Wednesday on the steamer Drew. Mr. Bradt was a pilot for more than forty years. He was for some years pilot on the steamer Williamsburgh, now the Baltic of Cornell's line. He was also pilot of the Isaac Newton for three years. He retired from service on the river about ten years since. He was buried from the Baptist church in Greenbush on Thursday afternoon.

Stoning a Church.

Last Thursday evening while services were being held in the Baptist church, some miscreants disturbed the worshippers to a considerable extent by throwing stones through the windows and firing pistols near the building. There is no clew to the perpetrators of the deed, but we trust they may be found and severely dealt with.—Rhinebeck Gazette.

A Race in the Clouds.

Mr. J. W. Moore of this town has accepted Prof. Fisher's challenge of $2,000 to compete in a balloon ascension on the Fourth of July. The Professor goes up in his new mammoth, "City of Vienna," while Mr. Moore uses the "City of Paris." The ascension is to be made either in Rhinebeck or Saratoga.—Rhinebeck Gazette.

—Somebody reported that Lester Winfield tried to get a drink on election day, and that lengthy scribbler is out with a card indignantly denying the story.

Personal.

Mr. Aaron Hoes, of this city, will remove soon to West Kill, Greene county.

Rev. A. A. Farr, who has endeared himself to the people of the Second Reformed Church of this city by his successful labors among them, will spend Sunday, to-morrow, with that people.

Justice Josiah DuBois was taken suddenly and very severely ill on Thursday night with pleurisy. During Friday he suffered great pain and was an extremely sick man. We trust the 'Squire will soon recover his usual good health.

Dr. Stephen Gerow, who for many years has been located at New Paltz, is about to remove to the city of New York. Dr. E. H. Loughran of this city, will take his place in New Paltz. Mr. Loughran is a good physician and a man of excellent moral character.

Hon. Hector Abeel, Hon. John D. Winfield, Hon. Matthew Griffin and Hon. Charles F. Houghton, Assemblymen from the Second District of Steuben county, passed through the city last evening.

Naming a Craft.

The New York Sun has this scrap of local history: Many years ago there lived at Wappingers Creek on the Hudson a ship carpenter who was troubled to find a proper name for a sloop he had on the stocks. His neighbors quizzed him so much that he at last came to the singular resolve that whatever word any person should say who next passed him on the road should be the name by which he should christen the craft. Pretty soon a huge Dutchess county wagon hove in sight, on the front seat of which were two farmers in eager conversation. "Who would have thought it?" said one man to the other, and so the poor little vessel had, "Who would have thought it? of Wappingers Creek," painted on her, and there are elderly people now living in that vicinity who remember well the strangely named vessel.

Runaway.

On Friday forenoon Captain Peter Burger and his wife, who reside on Hasbrouck avenue in this city, left home to go to Creek Locks to attend the funeral of a sister of Mrs. Burger. When they got just below Gross' mill on the avenue, the horse became frightened and ran away, throwing both the captain and Mrs. Burger to the ground, and inflicting a severe cut on the knee of the former, while Mrs. Burger received a deep cut over one eye and was much bruised about the body. The injured woman was taken up insensible and carried into the house of Mr. E. J. Mesereau, where her injuries were attended to, and some hours after consciousness was restored she was removed to her home. The wagon was considerably damaged but the horse was uninjured.

Temperance.

The action of the temperance men on Thursday night in regard to expelling church members who sell liquor or lease buildings for the sale of it, has created a great sensation uptown. A number of prominent church men, who own buildings that are rented for the business of selling liquor, fluttered around the streets in great trepidation. Knots of prominent men discussed the question on the street corners, some of whom claimed if this resolution was carried out, the church would lose some of its best paying members. In some of the law offices the discussion waxed hot, and take it all in all this movement has created more of a sensation than all the resolutions that have heretofore been passed. Why? Because it looks like action.

No License in Marbletown.

Though the rumsellers of the town of Marbletown combined and defeated F. D. L. Montanye for Justice because of his refusal to grant any licenses, the new town board is firm against granting any licenses, and so far have refused to grant a single one. Still the liquor dealers sell about as much as ever, and the temperance men are about to form an organization for the prosecution of all who sell. A sufficient sum of money will be raised for the purpose.

Fire at Shokan.

A barn belonging to John J. Boice at West Shokan was fired by the locomotive of a passing train on the N. Y., K. & S. Railroad Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock, and wholly consumed with contents. There were five tons of hay, some straw, one horse, sleighs, harness, threshing machines and other farming utensils in the barn. The loss was about $1,800. The property was well insured in the New York Central Insurance Company.

Encourage the Birds.

Katie Sparrow, Jennie Wren and Robert Bluebird have arrived in force, and are quite exercised about a place to live and carry on their usual domestic business. They are very welcome visitors, and every family should provide at least one cottage suitable to their wants. Go to work, boys, and put up a few boxes for the songsters. They will pay you well for it with choice, sweet music, every morning before you are up.

Handsome Pulpit Furniture.

Mr. George L. Wachmeyer has the desk and pulpit furniture for the new Presbyterian church finished. The desk is of blackwalnut, as are the chairs, very handsomely carved after designs by the architect of the building. The furniture is trimmed with green rep of a handsome shade, and the work reflects great credit both on the designer and the executor.

N. Y., K. & S. R. R. Receiver.

Strong efforts are being made by the creditors of the N. Y., K. & S. R. R. Company to have a new receiver appointed. As the claims of the bondholders and creditors are diametrically opposed, there can be no reconciliation in the matter, and it will only end when one or the other of the parties are worsted.

COUNTY.

—A Kingston jeweler will soon locate at Rosendale.

—Highland people are going to lay sidewalks.

—Luther Dubois of New Paltz will remove to Kingston.

—The Ellenville stage-driver says the roads have never been better at this time of the year than they are now.

—The engine house of the Midland Railroad in Ellenville was destroyed by fire Thursday. The loss was not very large.

—The fields on the Ellenville road are white—not exactly for the harvest—but with lime and plaster, which the farmers are scattering plentifully over their land.

—A valuable horse owned by Day Hardenbergh ran away in Lackawack last Sunday. The driver was thrown from the wagon and the horse killed.

—The Town Board of Saugerties have notified the Overseer of the Poor that they will audit no more bills for the support of traveling paupers.

—The new mill of the Rosendale & New York Cement Company is the finest in the county, and an ornament to the village of Rosendale.

—The Paltz Point House is now a very sightly object, and is very plainly discernible from the Rondout valley. Its dimensions are now greatly extended and its accommodations much increased.

—The letting of water in the canal causes all the little villages to prick up, and business begins to start. Everybody is making a little change in something so as to make it a little more shipshape.

—Money appears to be very scarce in the back towns, although not so much so as during the winter. The starting of the numerous cement mills and the canal will soon begin to diminish the stringency.

—A considerable portion of the roadway at Lefever's Falls has slid down, though the earth was kept from reaching the canal. The road at this point is positively dangerous, and should be protected for the entire distance by a strong fence.

—Kerhonkson is receiving hoop-poles in considerable quantity. A large share of them come from Samsonville. The drivers of the wagons are very independent and drive right ahead over anything. One of them even drove over a torchlight procession in the Presidential campaign.

—The sheds of the Reformed Church of Rochester are in a very bad shape. A snow-storm a year or so ago broke a large portion of them down, and the congregation doesn't seem to have had enough energy to repair them, or at least its energy hasn't taken that direction.

—The D. & H. Canal Company owe it to the country through which their canal passes to repaint their bridges. The valley is truly rural and pretty, and the abominable red of the bridges is an offence against good taste. While we do not believe in white houses, white bridges on the other hand would be a great improvement.

—The county is overrun with pedlers' wagons. A person stopping at a country store for an hour will hardly see less than half-a-dozen, selling everything from pills to boots and shoes, all with heavily loaded wagons. Most of them, however, find it too early to make large sales.

—Ellenville is in mourning. The girls still refuse to attend any sociable held at a hotel, and as there are no other places society is draped in the blackest of mourning weeds. The girls, under the circumstances, show remarkable self-denial, and their motto, "No pledge no dance," has already developed crape and mourning bands.

VICINITY.

—Hudson is to have a boat club. Why not Kingston, also?

—Westchester has organized a historical society.

—George C. Gibbs, formerly of Andes, has been elected Mayor of Polo, Ills.

—Washingtonville wants a fire department and a few fires.

—The Newburgh Daily Telegraph establishment is announced for sale April 16th.

—Monroe is to be incorporated and improved.

—The Jeffersonian has been enlarged and improved.

—John R. Rynders has leased the Rhinebeck Driving Park for $250 per year.

—The Rhinebeck Gazette is publishing the history of the town in weekly installments.

—Catskill is doing a heavy maple sugar trade. It don't sweeten its disposition any.

—The steamer Armenia is to run between Albany and New York.

—The new United States Hotel at Saratoga requires 33,000 yards of carpet.

—Joseph Hyde of Newburgh has a petrified honey comb. He has been offered $50 for it, but won't sell.

—Hon. Matthew Griffin thinks he can get $100,000 from the Legislature in aid of the Delhi & Middletown R. R.

—A Newburgh lawyer named John B. Fenton has "hypothecated" a lot of money left on his hands by clients and gone away.

—A valuable bed of hematite ore has been discovered near Monroe, and a Pennsylvania company wants to buy.

—A large fire in Troy is supposed to have originated from a spark from a passing steamer on the river.

—A Lansingburgh sexton got drunk last Sunday, and the pastor had to open and close not only the services, but the sanctuary doors.

—Father O'Hare, the Goshen priest who assaulted Miss Conkling, has been held in $200 bail to appear before the Grand Jury.

—The receipts for rent alone of the Rhinebeck Town Hall last year were $722.60, and the Gazette thinks no better investment could have been made by the town.

—The Catskill Recorder don't understand Mr. Lockwood's horse railroad bill and pertinently inquires, "Whose African is in this brush-heap?"

—The Poughkeepsie Eagle claims to be in possession of information that shows positively that Waltz is really insane. Dr. Kellogg of the Hudson River Insane Asylum is reported to give a decided opinion to that effect.

—A Troy firm made the anchor chain for the big Pacific Mail steamer City of Pekin. The chain weighs 40 tons, and is composed of 1,800 links, each a foot long. It cost about $5,000.

—They are trying to shut the rum trade in Montgomery down to two hotels and two saloons, and it is proposed by some of the reformers to sell the licenses to the four highest bidders. If the other rum-holes are shut up, we should say those four would have a soft thing of it.

—The Goshen and Monticello papers are having a few words about paupers. The Goshen Independent Republican says when the Sullivan county authorities want to show off their well-conditioned paupers they are in the habit of greasing skeletons and exhibiting them as fat men.

—The following interesting agreement was found in the pocket of a young Troy scapegrace arrested for burglary: "I, the undersigned, Sarah Ann Brown, do solemnly agree to release the said Andrew Gearon of the city of Troy, county of Rensselaer, state of New York, from all claims pertaining to holy matrimony, he being young and not qualified to enter into such a state at present."

—Fosterdale, Sullivan county, dotes on a trained calf that can waltz and dance a quadrille. That's nothing, we've often seen calves in waltzes and quadrilles. A representative of the wealth and culture of Monticello refused to contribute ten cents toward buying an almost freezing child some warm clothing. Sullivan county ought to put this educated hog and her trained calf together and start a side show.—Catskill Recorder.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM — ALCOHOL

PURELY — CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked. "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminitics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM — ALCOHOL
PURELY — DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA — VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked. "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
